

Price Freeze Up to Union, Firms Assert

Say Wages Also Must be Frozen Under Program

New York —P— Some major steel producers have indicated they will accept a union challenge to freeze steel prices only on condition that the union agree to freeze wages.

The union earlier made it clear it won't agree to freeze wages.

The position of the producers emerged yesterday in unofficial responses to a letter from David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, to 12 major steel producers.

McDonald had said the producers, because of increased productivity and profits, could afford to grant wage increases to the half-million members of his union without raising the price of steel.

Want Pay Boosts

Even if the steel industry agrees to freeze prices, McDonald said, the union will insist on higher wages and other benefits.

Last week the union turned down a proposal from the steel industry that it agree to a one-year freeze on wages and benefits.

Joseph L. Block, chairman of the Inland Steel company, was the first to indicate industry's response. He told a group of security analysts here last night that "holding the line on wages, would enable us to hold the line on steel prices, and these two cannot be separated from each other despite some statements to the contrary."

In the same speech, Block said Inland Steel's first quarter earnings, to be announced next week, would break all records. Production, sales and profits would also set records for the full year, he said, if there were no strikes.

The first of the big steel producers to make known its profit figures for the first quarter, Jones & Laughlin, said many of these fourth largest in the industry, students now have to drive yesterday reported a record-breaking net income of $15.5 million for the first quarter of 1959.

That was more than $14 million over net income for the same period last year, he added.

Capsule From Discoverer Believed in Polar Region

Pentagon Holds Out Some Hopes That It May be Found

Washington —P— The Pentagon said today it believes the capsule from the Discoverer II satellite was dropped successfully in the North polar region. There is some hope it may be recovered.

A brief announcement said that analysis of radio beacon and telemetry signals "indicates that the capsule did ject from the satellite as predicted."

The statement added that "several reports of visual sightings and radio contacts from the capsule are being carefully checked to determine the probable landing area in the polar region."

This indicated that hope exists that the nose cone package may be picked up somewhere in the polar region.

The capsule was set to be ejected automatically when the satellite made its 17th orbit around the earth. That was about 7 o'clock last night.

Several other rockets shoots crowded into the past days—both the satellite and missile variety—were less successful than the Discoverer, which was fired into a pole-to-pole orbit from Vandenberg Air Force base, Calif., on Monday.

Important Data Except for recovery of the capsule, a 1,000 to 1 chance even if everything worked right, the Discoverer performed well and produced important scientific information, the scientists reported.

The air force had hoped to snare the capsule as it floated down under a parachute near the Hawaiian islands yesterday. But a cranking timing device failed and the capsule was not ejected at the right time. This attempt was to have been from command from a radar station in the islands.

The little moon still contained a mechanism that automatically was to shoot out the capsule and fire its retro rockets to slow it down enough to enter the atmosphere.

Senate Asked To Let Public See Payrolls

Neuberger Wants Classification of Members' Employees

Washington —P— The senate was urged by Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore) today to classify its employees, fix standard salary scales and let the public have a look at its payrolls.

Neuberger announced in a statement he is offering a bill to accomplish this result. He said it would end the "tempest in a teapot" over nepotism.

He said that while he had never had a relative on his payroll he wasn't criticizing senators who did. He added that the question is: "Does the relative perform duties and carry responsibilities commensurate with compensation received?"

Sen. Morse (D-Ore) already has introduced a bill to make senate salaries public, but it faces strong opposition.

Invite Inspection

Two Republicans, Sens. Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating of New York, invited reporters to inspect their office payrolls today. There were indications that Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.) plans to follow suit.

And Sens. Hugh Scott (R-Pa) and Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa) took similar action. Clark issued a list of his employees' names and their general salary range. Scott said he had previously made public the names of his employees.

Both Pennsylvania senators said they had no relatives on their payrolls and never have had.

Clark listed four top employees earning from $10,000 to $16,300 a year, four other aides in the $6,000 - $7,000 range, and 10 office workers drawing from $4,500 to $6,000 a year. Two part-time employees receive less.

$25,000 Fire on Lawsonia Grounds

Green Lake —P— Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the supervisors home on the American Baptist assembly grounds at Lawsonia here Tuesday night. Damage was estimated in excess of $25,000.

Departments from Green Lake, Princeton and Markesan fought the blaze for more than two hours. They were hampered by lack of water, but kept the blaze from spreading to other buildings on the grounds.

Flying Platform Tested

Could Make U.S. Highways Obsolete

Carl W. Bollum Demonstrates a sports model of a hydro-air vehicle for the house space committee in Washington. Fans on motors stir up a cushion of air to lift it off the ground. Propellers then project it forward.

Washington —P— The chairman of the house space committee took a ride —about an inch off the ground—on a flying platform which one colleague suggested could make the nation's highways obsolete.

Rep. Overton Brooks (D-La.) got onto the rectangular-shaped metal device at the conclusion of a committee hearing yesterday and, at the touch of a switch, began skimming around just off the floor.

Also Over Water Spacecrafts, Inc., of Washington described the platform as an experimental version of its Hydro-Air Vehicle which it said is capable of moving over both water and ground at heights up to a few inches.

Carl W. Bollum, Spacecrafts president, said his firm is ready to begin production of more elaborate vehicles capable of speeds up to 100 miles an hour and designed for both military and civilian use.

He said his company hopes to have both commercial and sports vehicles available for sale to the public within 18 months. A sports model, Bollum said, would sell at approximately $4,000.

The machines are boosted off the ground by pumps which force air under high pressure into a pan-shaped device under the vehicle.

The air then is leaked out around the bottom of the vehicle, creating what Bollum called an air cushion that pushes the craft off the ground. An airplane-type propeller provides the propulsion.

Bollum said the vehicle could do away with the need for expensive paved highways. A graded embankment covered with nothing more than grass turf might be sufficient, he said.

Military models of the machine, he said, could range in size from a one-man affair to about 10 feet long and 6 feet wide up to a large transport vehicle which might be 100 feet long and 60 feet wide.

Hoover Calls Dulles' Resignation 'Tragedy'

New York —P— Former President Hoover said today that John Foster Dulles ranked highest among all secretaries of state and described his resignation as a tragedy.

"The resignation of Sec. John Foster Dulles is the culmination of a great tragedy to the American people," Hoover said.

"We have had many great secretaries of state. History will rank Sec. Dulles among the highest of them — and in my view the highest of them all."

John Foster Dulles, who resigned today as secretary of state, is shown as he reentered Walter Reed hospital in Washington for treatment of a new outbreak of cancer.

Panchen Lama Backs Plan of Communists

Joins Chou in Praising Red Reorganization of Tibetan Life

Tokyo —P— The Panchen Lama today endorsed his red Chinese masters' plans to push ahead with the communization of Tibet.

The 21-year-old occupant of the fugitive Dala Lama's throne, brought to Peking to attend the Chinese communist people's congress, joined red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai in hailing the reorganization of Tibetan life which the reds have said they will go ahead with.

Assails Rebels

"We firmly believe," the Panchen Lama declared at a banquet in his honor, "that under the brilliant leadership of the communist party, and with the strong support of the red Chinese, the people of Tibet will definitely eradicate the backwardness and poverty and advance toward a prosperous and happy socialist society."

"The rebels have miscalculated," the Panchen Lama said. "They intended to continue their enslavement of the people of Tibet, but the result is the consolidation of the Motherland's unification and national solidarity. The people of Tibet have begun a new page in their happy life."

Chou declared that the Tibetan rebellion, during which the ruling Dalai Lama fled into India, has "created extremely favorable conditions for the democratization of Tibet."

"The people of Tibet," said Chou, "will gradually free themselves from poverty and backwardness and advance to the bright road of prosperity and happiness."

Faced with open opposition from the ruling lamas and the Khamba tribesmen, red China had put off attempts to jam through social reforms in the primitive kingdom.

Illness Spreading To Area of Neck

BY MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Augusta, Ga.—(AP)—President Eisenhower, his voice choked with emotion, today sadly announced the resignation of cancer-stricken Sec. of State Dulles.

At a dramatic news conference at his vacation headquarters, Eisenhower said Dulles now is incapacitated to carry on the administrative burden of his office and make policy as well.

The president said he has made no final decision on a successor to Dulles. He gave newsmen the impression he might pick someone other than Under Sec. Christian A. Herter, who has been serving as acting secretary, but he by no means ruled out Herter.

Dulles, Eisenhower said, will continue to serve him as a foreign policy consultant.

There was a trace of tears in Eisenhower's eyes as he announced the 71-year-old Dulles' decision to step down.

Although at the news conference Eisenhower called Dulles "absolutely incapacitated" for the administrative burden and "doing the thinking for it," an aide said later that the president had not intended to use the word "absolutely."

Press Sec. James C. Hagerly asked newsmen to delete the word, and the official White House transcript eliminated it.

Cancer Spreads

A reporter told Eisenhower it had been pretty much known that the president had not intended to use the word "absolutely."

Asked whether he had some one other than Herter in mind, Eisenhower said there are "all kinds of considerations" to take into account. He added there are "a number of people with particular talents" who could fill the top foreign policy post.

Eisenhower's dramatic announcement came less than 24 hours after Dulles' doctors concluded that his cancer probably has spread to the neck area. Earlier it had been confined to the abdominal area.

Eisenhower strode into the temporary White House press room, near his vacation headquarters at 9:35 a. m. and announced that he wanted to say something regarding Dulles.

Ike Shows Emotion

The president's emotion regarding the turn for the worse for Dulles' condition became more and more obvious as he talked.

Eisenhower reported that he had talked to Dulles by telephone earlier in the morning, and that in view of the doctors' latest findings, the secretary had decided definitely to submit his resignation.

A beautiful blonde typist was jailed in a murder investigation today, accused of pumping 18 bullets into the body of a gardener to satisfy an urge for a human target.

Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore quoted Rosemarie Diane Bjorkland 18, as saying: "I had a terrible urge to kill someone ever since I started target shooting as a hobby. . . I wanted a human target."

August Norry, 28, a golf course gardener, was found dead in the hills of the Crocker estate, south of San Francisco on Feb. 1.

It was his custom to go there to dump grass cuttings and garden debris.

His body had been riddled by 18 bullets.

Youth Killed After Terrorizing 3 Women in Cafe

Louisville, Ky. —P— An 18-year-old boy who terrorized three women in a cafe was shot to death by an off-duty policeman last night.

Sgt. Arthur G. Kirchdorfer said he shot James Robert Ashbrook as the youth tried to wrestle his revolver away in a street fight.

"I pushed his chest up and fired one time," Kirchdorfer said. "I knew I was fighting for my life."

The police version of the shooting:

Ashbrook walked into a cafe, gave away the sandwiches he ordered and threatened Mrs. Irene Dalton, 50, owner of the cafe, her niece, Mrs. Thelma Snyder, and Mrs. Irving J. Kirchdorfer, the officer's sister-in-law.

When Mrs. Kirchdorfer said police were on their way, Ashbrook grabbed her by the throat.

Sgt. Kirchdorfer heard the screams and rushed to the scene.

At first the boy was docile, but as he and Kirchdorfer waited for on-duty policemen to arrive they grappled. Ashbrook was shot in the leg. He lunged for Kirchdorfer again and tried to twist the gun out of his hands. Then Kirchdorfer shot him through the heart.

Ice Skate Launched

Intensive Study Begun On Tiny Isle in Arctic

BY ALAN CLINE

Alpha Two, Arctic Ocean —P— Ice Skate, a cold weather scientific mission with strong military overtones, was launched yesterday on this tiny block of ice in the barren Arctic.

Two C124 four-engine Globemaster planes parachuted 22 tons of equipment, food and shelter to a small contingent of intrepid air force men and navy scientists from California who will study meteorology, hydrology, oceanography and what animal and fish life there is.

Small Island

The 2-mile by 2-mile island is along the Arctic route traveled by the nuclear submarine Nautilus and Skate.

Russians have two similar islands and are landing a third within 100 miles of Alpha Two, successor to Alpha One, an ice island which broke up last November and had to be evacuated.

Mar. Harry M. Brutenham of Houston, Texas, the Ice Skate project officer, pointed out that although the operation is primarily scientific, "underwater soundings will be taken and we'll certainly use what information we obtain."

The venture will be carried on jointly by the air force and navy.

Alpha Two is 233 miles north of Point Barrow, northernmost part of the United States as well as of North America. The island is about 900 miles south of the North pole and moves slowly around it.

Alpha One, which was operated in conjunction with the International Geophysical Year (IGY) just concluded, broke up after being occupied for 20 months.

The air force has another one, T-3, operating off Newfoundland.

The new Alpha radio code name is "Nowhere." Call it what you will, ice island, Alphas Nautilus and Skate, or Alpha Deuce or nowhere—by any name it is a barren hunk of ice.

It is spring in the north now with sunshine so bright that pilots experience "whiteouts." That is the same as a black-out, only you see only white; no horizons, no anything.

The thermometer registered 20 below yesterday, in the summer it rises to just freezing. In winter it goes to 45 below.

Bufalino Faces Added Questions

Washington —P— The senate rackets committee today recalled Detroit teamster chieftain William Bufalino, whose appearance yesterday turned into an afternoon's shouting match.

Bufalino, president of Detroit Jukebox Local No. 985, said yesterday someone on the committee — he didn't say who — was attempting to "weave and spin a web of infamy" around him.

Bufalino hotly rejected a suggestion by Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Mich) that he take a lie detector test on his denial of involvement in the bombing of a non-union Dearborn, Mich., car washing establishment.

Castro Arrives for U.S. Tour Tonight

Security Agents Team With Police To Form Tight Protective Ring; Expect Stormy Unofficial Visit

Washington — (AP) — Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro will arrive tonight for what promises to be a stormy 11-day unofficial visit to the United States.

State department security agents, teaming with Washington police, have arranged to give him one of the tightest protective rings ever given a foreign visitor.

Castro, accompanied by a heavy guard of bearded revolutionary protectors, will fly in with a party of about 35 persons in a chartered Cuban government C54 transport.

Number of Threats

A number of threats, warning that Castro will never leave the country alive, have alarmed authorities in advance of his arrival. Demonstrations and picketing are expected during his 5-day stay in the capital and a similar visit in New York.

But his visit apparently will be a hit attraction. The National Press club said the 505 seats for its luncheon next Monday honoring Castro were sold out less than an hour after they became available.

The American Society of Newspaper Editors, at whose invitation Castro arranged the visit, prepared for a capacity crowd for the Friday meeting he will address. With tickets limited to members, the ASNE plans to have seats for 900 and standing room for several hundred more.

Improve Relations

Castro is hoping his visit will improve Cuba's relations with the United States and Canada. As part of his effort, he has volunteered to answer questions about some of the points on which his regime has been criticized. He also wants to emphasize the goals he seeks for Cuba.

For one thing he is seeking sympathy and support for his program, including an agrarian reform project to put landless peasants on individual and cooperative farms.

He also hopes to impress upon this country his argument that a bigger share of the U. S. sugar market is vital to Cuba.

Security Agents

At least two anti-Castro groups are expected to demonstrate against him here. Security agents assigned to guard the Cuban rebel hero also have picked up threats that he will be bombed, hanged, stoned, and shot. They want to make certain nothing of the sort happens.

Castro will meet with acting Sec. of State Christian Herter tomorrow at a luncheon, and with Vice President Nixon Sunday night at Nixon's home. He has no plans for formal talks with top U.S. government officials.

Senator Will Offer Labor Bill Changes

Debate on Kennedy Proposal Expected To Start Today

Washington — (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said today he was preparing 100 floor amendments for the debate on the Kennedy labor regulation bill.

The debate is expected to begin today although Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) assured his colleagues there would be no vote until next week.

Goldwater, the leading foe of the bill, told a newspaper he probably would not call up all of his 100 amendments. He said his strategy would depend on how the voting goes. But he predicted the senate will make some changes.

Kennedy Confident

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), author of the bill, has told reporters he was confident it would pass the senate about as it came from the labor committee.

In senate debate on a similar measure last year, more than 50 amendments were considered and only one was adopted over Kennedy's opposition.

The bill would require detailed public financial reporting by unions, establish a union democracy code with secret ballots and limits on officers' terms, control trusteeships by international unions over locals and bar convicted persons from serving as union officials for prescribed periods. It also would make some changes in the Taft-Hartley law sought by unions.

Senators Disagree

Kennedy has called the bill a strong, effective measure. Goldwater denounces it as a gimmick-laden bill which he says will not actually get at union abuses.

Goldwater said he would like to see an amendment to "limit effectively political expenditures and contributions by labor unions."

Sec. of Labor James P. Mitchell has said such a provision should not be included in labor control legislation.

Goldwater said also he considered some of the proposals of Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) superior to the administration measure he himself introduced, and would support them if the Arkansas senator offered them on the floor.

McClellan has said he was preparing amendments but has declined to discuss them in detail.

Charge Parents With Abusing 7-Year-Old Son

Los Angeles — (AP) — A couple was jailed on suspicion of child beating yesterday after their 7-year-old son accused his father of mistreating him and pouring whiskey down his throat for refusing to eat.

The youngster, James Sams, was taken to a hospital, where doctors pumped his stomach and treated bruises on his face and neck. He told police his father shook him furiously because he wouldn't eat, then forced half a pint of whiskey down his throat.

James R. Sams, 40, failed with his wife, Ethel, 43, denied it and told police: "I got five kids and they all love me. Every one of 'em."

The parents had been arrested at a bar on drunk charges. They were re-booked on the child beating complaint.

Tax Officials Will Question More Returns

Midnight Deadline For Filing of Individual Reports

Washington — (AP) — Federal tax officials said today they will question more income tax returns this year than ever before.

The deadline for filing individual returns is midnight tonight. Legally, returns must reach internal revenue service offices by then. In practice, however, they'll be accepted if they're postmarked by that time.

Official supervising IRS audits said their work on the latest crop of returns will be expanded regardless of what congress does with the agency's budget.

Expand Tax Checks

This is in line with an announced goal of Commissioner Dana Latham to expand tax checks "so that no taxpayer can ever feel that he is secure from an audit."

About 2,600,000 income tax returns of all kinds were audited last year, an audit means the taxpayer is asked to supply more information or justify certain items in a return.

This work, by 12,600 agents and auditors, brought in an additional $14 billion in revenue.

Latham recently told a house committee that IRS wants to step up audits to every taxpayer with substantial income at least once "in a reasonable cycle period." He added:

"He may not be picked this year, but he may be picked in the next three years."

Only a small fraction of the 934 million returns filed each year are audited. About 61 million returns are from individuals. However, Latham has said that millions of returns involve small incomes and normally don't require thorough checking.

Of course, the quickest way to get in trouble with IRS is to file a late return. This results in a penalty of 5 per cent a month on any tax owed, up to a maximum of 25 per cent. In addition, IRS can charge interest of 6 per cent a year on tax debts.

Youth Admits Killing Young Mother of 3

Flint, Mich. — (AP) — A 14-year-old youth admitted to police today that he beat and stabbed to death a pretty young mother of three who had befriended him.

Genesee county Prosecutor Jerome F. O'Rourke said he would ask the probate court to waive jurisdiction on Gerald Carlson, who will be 15 a week from today.

Under Michigan law, all juvenile cases are handled by the probate courts unless jurisdiction is waived.

The mutilated body of Mrs. Patricia Dixon, 24, was found in a utility room of her home on the outskirts of Flint last night. She was clad in a nightgown.

State police said Carlson gave no indication of being sorry. When asked why he attacked Mrs. Dixon, police said the boy answered: "I don't know. I don't know."

O'Rourke said Carlson frequently visited Mrs. Dixon and her husband, Richard, 27, at their home. Dixon was at work at the Fisher body plant at the time of the slaying. The couple's children — Richard Jr., 4, Terry, 2, and Pamela, 10 months — were in the house during the attack.

Admiral Claims U. S. Leads Reds in Number Of Atom-Power Ships

Makes Statement as Navy Puts Speedy Nuclear Sub Into Service

Groton, Conn. — (AP) — The vice chief of naval operations said today that America's navy "is far ahead of any other country in the development and use of atomic power as a means of ship propulsion."

Adm. James S. Russell didn't amplify this statement in his prepared speech at the commissioning of the speedy atomic submarine Skipjack.

Unofficially, however, the Russians have been reported to be experimenting with atomic energy as a source of power in their submarines.

First of Class

Russell described the 252-foot, 2,830-ton Skipjack, which has gone faster and deeper than any known undersize ship, as "the forerunner of a new generation of submarines." She is the first of a new class of attack vessels and the sixth atomic submarine to join the navy family.

The ceremonies took place on a building platform that straddled the hull of the Skipjack while the crew stood alongside the dock. There is no room for standing topside. The Skipjack is deckless.

One crewman ran up the flags during the ceremonies as he stood aboard aided by a safety belt attached to a track running along the center line of the submarine.

Symbolic Event

Said Johnson: "The commissioning of the Holland symbolized the beginning of man's conquest of undersea. Today's commissioning symbolizes the beginning of total conquest, for here is a ship truly at home in the depths, a blending of steel and atomic power whose natural element is the world's oceans."

Cmdr. William W. Behrens Jr. of Harrisburg, Pa., officially took charge as the vessel's first commanding officer.

The ceremonies took place on a building platform that straddled the hull of the Skipjack while the crew stood alongside the dock. There is no room for standing topside. The Skipjack is deckless.

Another speaker, Earl D. Johnson, executive vice president of General Dynamics, said he couldn't help but feel "that perhaps someday men will rank the commissioning of the Skipjack with the com-

St. Norbert College's Proposed Student Union to Cost $400,000

West De Pere — Ask almost any student on the St. Norbert campus what the college's most pressing need is, and invariably you'll get the answer, "a student union."

He's giving a straightforward answer to what he undoubtedly considers a rather obvious question.

If he is the loquacious type, he may go even further. He'll tell you that he realizes the rapid growth in student population most certainly gives rise to other urgent needs. He may even concede that, from the standpoint of college administration, other projects must be given a higher priority — a faculty fund, better library facilities, more classrooms.

But he'll still come back to his original statement. From his standpoint — a college union is the most pressing requirement on the St. Norbert campus today.

Studies Made

The St. Norbert development program, designed to provide for expansion over the next decade, calls for a college union among the immediate needs of the institution.

Several years of study have gone into the long-range planning of this phase of the program. More immediately, a faculty committee has, over the past several months, delved into the detailed operation of student centers of this type at many other colleges and universities. The committee has interviewed students, talked with officials at other institutions, examined specific situations similar to St. Norbert campus.

Out of these studies has come a specific set of plans for the proposed new St. Norbert college union.

To cost somewhat over $400,000 and ideally, in the thinking of the development campaign officials, to be a suitable memorial to an individual or a family who sees the real benefits that can accrue from a generous gift of this nature, the union will be the center of all social activities on the campus.

It will contain dining facilities for the use of both resident and nonresident students. Today campus accommodations for resident students are adequate only because students tolerate long serving lines and the seemingly endless waiting. Dining facilities for nonresident students, except for a snack bar in the basement of the gymnasium, with a seating capacity of about 50 people, do not exist. The "day" student is fortunate if he drives his own car and can resort to it as his dining room.

The proposed college union, with a cafeteria — style dining room capable of seating a minimum of 500 at one time, and with a snack bar to accommodate upwards of 300, will provide one of the opportunities for the resident and day groups of students to intermingle.

Other Areas

Campus organizations will have use of second-floor lounges, so designed that either business meetings or luncheons and dinners can be held without interference from or with normal day-to-day operation of other phases of the student center.

The basement area of the proposed building will be given over to the more active types of recreation — game rooms, with facilities for table tennis and billiards, card rooms and other outlets where pent-up enthusiasm may find its normal vent without interference with more serious aspects of student activities.

Provision will also be made for TV viewing rooms and a place where serious music may be studied and enjoyed. Plans call for music to be piped into the dining room, snack bar and lounge areas of the union to add to student enjoyment of their surroundings.

Curb, Gutter Recommended For 6 Streets

4 Others Slated For Sidewalk Work, Committee Rules

Curb and gutter for six streets and sidewalks for four others have been recommended by the street committee.

Councilmen will vote on the projects tonight. If they are approved, they will be forwarded to the board of public works for setting of assessments.

Projects and locations: Curb and gutter this year and asphalt mat next year on: Moorpark avenue between Racine and McDonald streets. Greenview, East, Harmon and Carpenter streets between Harding and Taft avenues.

Sidewalks: Harding avenue between Greenview and Carpenter streets, with Harding avenue to be a 37-foot-wide street.

Sidewalks on: The east side of Douglas street from Wisconsin avenue to Winnebago street where not in place.

The west side of Greenview street from Calumet street south along Madison Junior High school.

Calumet street from Kernan avenue to Oneida street where not in place. The section includes 600 feet of Dr. Edward F. Mielke property, which is not in the city.

The west side of Kernan avenue from Calumet street north where not in place.

Water Laterals: A blanket authority to install sewer and water laterals where needed in conjunction with curb and gutter projects was given the engineering department. Property owners are assessed full cost of sewer and water lateral construction, which is let by competitive bidding.

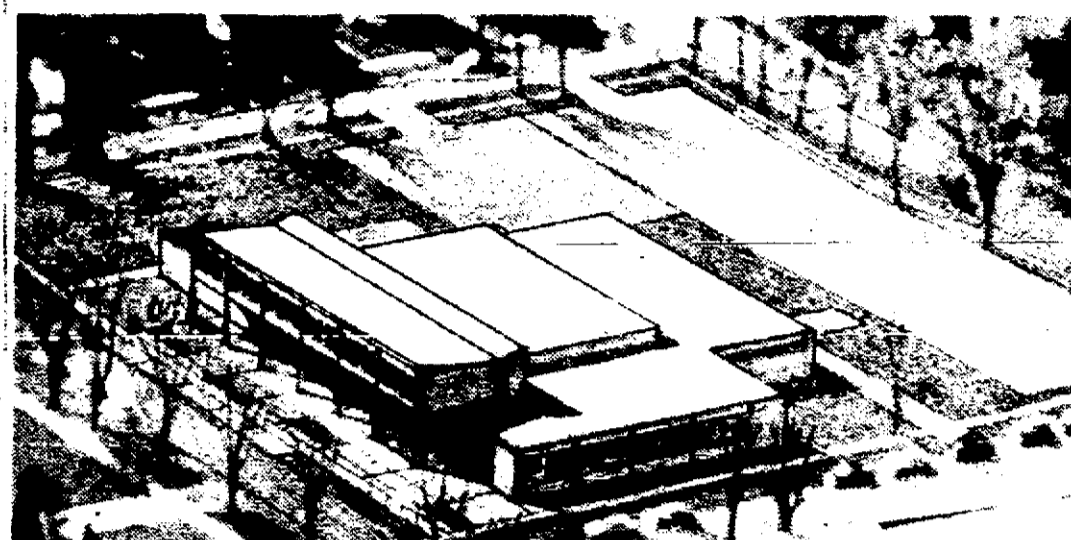

The committee turned down the Fox river at Lawe street, two requests of Ald. Robert J. Stumpf.

In one he sought to have asphalt work on Carpenter and Greenview streets where curb and gutter was installed last year held off because of heavy construction work in the area.

Study Ordered: In the other he sought to have a manhole constructed at the low spot in a wide present residence after the drainage area near the South Side Athletic club. He wanted the work done at city expense. The committee directed Director of Public Works Duszynski to study the problem and report back.

This Is the Knight Club—the overcrowded snack bar which students at St. Norbert college, De Pere, use for a student union. No space is available on the campus for a larger social center. The expansion program planned for St. Norbert includes a new union.

Committee Wants $770 in Equipment For Erb Park Pool

The city council will be asked tonight to buy $770.75 worth of equipment for the Erb park swimming pool from Culligan Soft Water Service, 1331 W. Wisconsin avenue. Applications for jobs at the pool, to be decided by Pool Director Lewis Precourt, are being received at City Clerk cleaner pump and motor, Broehm's office.

$375; 12 kickboards, $47.40; 4 umbrellas, $48; plastic ring buoy, $9.95; spring board, $161.40; float ropes, $75, and plastic floats, $34.

Extend Time Limit for Moving SSAC Fence From Shaw Street

The South Side Athletic club will not have to move its fence from the Shaw street right-of-way until sometime in July, the council's street committee has ruled.

It will take until that time, it was explained, before the Fairway subdivision, south of the club property, is approved and street work to open the land has proceeded through necessary legal steps.

While the club has agreed to move the fence from the street right-of-way, it is reported the club will contest its right to some of the strip it purchased "up to the existing fence line."

Other Action: Other committee action: Weed Commissioner John O'Connor will be paid $285 a month plus a $50-a-month car allowance for the 6-month season starting May 1.

C. Robert Schindler, of the engineering department, will receive $50-a-month car allowance during the summer construction season and other members of the department will be reimbursed at $2.50 a day.

Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski was given permission to rent a claim to clean up the tailrace of the Fox River Paper company in the Fox river at Lawe street, two requests of Ald. Robert J. Stumpf.

In one he sought to have asphalt work on Carpenter and Greenview streets where curb and gutter was installed last year held off because of heavy construction work in the area.

Study Ordered: In the other he sought to have a manhole constructed at the low spot in a wide present residence after the drainage area near the South Side Athletic club. He wanted

Research Pod Drops in State

Instruments Used to Measure Radiation From Space to Earth

Milwaukee — Cosmic ray measuring instruments—parachuted from a giant research balloon seen drifting over southeastern Wisconsin at a height of 110,000 feet—were recovered Tuesday.

Dr. Frank McDonald of Iowa State university headed the experiment to measure the radiation reaching the earth from space.

The polyethylene plastic bag, visible over Milwaukee county for several hours, dropped tentatively, said the instrument pod by radio control. The 210-pound balloons normally move at a age was found about seven speed of 12-20 miles per hour miles southeast of Tomah.

Launched Monday The balloon, some 240 feet in diameter and called a "Skyhook," was launched seen at Madison from late Monday morning by Winzen Monday afternoon until noon Research laboratories of Minn. Tuesday.

Trap Youths Stealing From Church Poor Box

Baltimore — Prayerful patience gave way to inventive necessity when the poor box at St. Wenceslaus Catholic church was being looted regularly.

A mechanically inclined brother rigged up a burglar alarm which sounded in the next-door rectory when the poor box was lifted from a pedestal.

In the alarm's first test, three priests and the brother bagged two 17-year-old boys who were fined $50 each in police court yesterday.

Man, 105, Has 5th Wedding Anniversary

Louisville, Ky. — Widower John Wesley Beard figured the best way to celebrate his first hundred years was to remarry.

Today he marked his 105th birthday — the fifth wedding anniversary.

Ice cream was the main refreshment for Beard, who said, "I was never drunk in my life and I been chewing tobacco since I was 8."

"He'd eat half a gallon of ice cream if you don't watch him," said 74-year-old Mrs. Beard, who had been a widow.

Beard, a healthy retired farmer, was a boy of 11 in Spencer county, Ind., when the Civil war ended.

He formerly worked as a tipper for the city sanitation department and at age 99 "anything anyone else could throw up on that truck I could, too."

The Beards' children posed their marriage, but more.

Injured Soviet Seaman Only Dimly Aware of Hospital Surroundings

Anchorage, Alaska — Evgenij Ivanovich Gneushev, a young Russian seaman injured aboard his ship on the Bering sea two weeks ago, opened his eyes for the first time yesterday since he was hurt.

The 23-year-old native of Vladivostok, partially paralyzed as the result of a brain injury suffered when he fell into the hold of the Soviet refrigerator ship Pischavaya Industriya, seemed only dimly aware of his surroundings.

Doctors at Elmendorf air force base hospital said Gneushev's chance of surviving had improved slightly but that he was still in critical condition.

Beard said, "now we have a wonderful home and we don't owe anyone a penny."

His wife mentioned Beard on a secluded lot in nearby Brackenridge where both lived.

Sentence was deferred pending a possible motion for a new trial.

14-Year-Old Boy Convicted Of Sex Killing

Pittsburgh — Jerry Pacek, physically matured far ahead of his 14 years, was convicted last night of second degree murder in the sex slaying of a 54-year-old neighbor.

The chain-smoking youth with a receding hairline turned out to be just a boy after all, slumping into a chair and weeping as the jury returned its verdict after 84 hours deliberation.

One of the youngest defendants in Pennsylvania history, Pacek faces a maximum sentence of 10 to 20 years in prison for the bludgeoning last Nov. 17 of Mrs. Lillian Stevick on a secluded lot in nearby Brackenridge where both lived.

Sentence was deferred pending a possible motion for a new trial.

Search for Killer Shifts To Mishicot

Manitowoc — Manitowoc county traffic officers Tuesday conducted an intensive but fruitless search for the driver of a blue and white station wagon who reportedly attempted to entice a 10-year-old girl into his car.

Another girl said she saw what might have been the same car stop beside a small boy "and when it drove on, the little boy was gone."

The first girl, a pupil at Holy Cross school in Mishicot, told police the man stopped her while she was riding a bicycle and that he drove away after she refused to get into the automobile. Police were called when the girl told her teachers what had happened.

The second incident also occurred near Holy Cross school.

Pleads Guilty Of Assault on Sister-in-Law

Wisconsin Rapids — A 23-year-old Wood county man accused of bludgeoning his sister-in-law and niece with a rifle has pleaded guilty to a charge of assault evincing a depraved mind.

County Judge Byron B. Conway ordered a pre-sentence investigation for LeRoy A. Young, route 1, Vesper. No date was set for sentencing.

Authorities said Young told them that after considerable drinking on April 6 he returned to the home of his brother, Frank, with whom he lived, on farms in Latin America, Australia and New Zealand.

Among returning boys and girls was John H. Stanley of Paris, Ill., who said Tuesday that the people of the Dominican Republic have friendly feelings toward his nation.

Dale E. Swenson of Amery, Wis., after living on five Mexican farms, said, "The people I lived with showed me typical Latin American hospitality."

He could give no reason for assaulting his sister-in-law.

Mrs. Young, 30, was in a critical condition for several days. The child was struck only a glancing blow.

Exchange Youths Say Other Nations Friendly to America

Washington — Six months of living on farms abroad has convinced 22 United States youngsters that their host nations feel friendly toward this country.

The youngsters, participants in a privately-financed program of the International Farm Youth Exchange, lived on farms in Latin America, Australia and New Zealand.

Among returning boys and girls was John H. Stanley of Paris, Ill., who said Tuesday that the people of the Dominican Republic have friendly feelings toward his nation.

Dale E. Swenson of Amery, Wis., after living on five Mexican farms, said, "The people I lived with showed me typical Latin American hospitality."

Paying for Higher Education

It is reasonably certain that the legislature will adopt the recommendations of the joint finance committee to levy higher fees upon undergraduate students at the University of Wisconsin.

It also is reasonably certain that when the legislature acts upon the realities of the situation, there will be howls from the liberals about this affront to the democratic idea in higher learning. Whenever we regard some of these attacks on the fees levied on students we recall the student spokesman who turned up before the legislature in a similar situation a few years ago. He was annoyed by the proposal to increase his tuition payment by $10, and remarked sarcastically that Wisconsin was less progressive than some of the universities of Europe. He had learned about the latter, he confided, on a tour of the continent during his last summer holiday!

Anyone who has observed the preoccupation of the university's administrators lately, with the problem of handling thousands of student automobiles, may also draw some conclusions about the scale of values of those who would protest the idea of a proportionate tax upon the immediate beneficiary, when the community as a whole is solicited for greater payments for the burgeoning higher education budget.

Aside from such considerations, however, there is an historical pattern in the higher education budget. Over the years the student has paid about one dollar of his undergraduate costs, and the anonymous taxpayer citizen has paid about four. That proportion should be maintained, we believe. But if it is to be maintained, the fee schedules must be raised, for the university's costs are rising. Even if the increased appropriations asked are denied — as they apparently will be denied by the Democratic administration — the higher education expenditure will be higher because of price inflation that affects teaching and the ivory towers as directly as the grocery items at the corner market.

The argument about nonresident tuition that has been resumed with the introduction of several legislative bills on the subject raises other questions. Wisconsin nonresident tuition fees have been fairly high. But the increasing proportion of non-residents in the student body at Madison implies, at the least, that the fees charged, or the quality of service rendered, or both, appear more than usually attractive to the sons and daughters of taxpayers in other states.

Those Truck Weights

Sen. Miller's suggestion, that the Wisconsin Motor Carriers association consult with the engineering staff of the state highway department about the carriers' plea for more liberal gross weight limits for trucks, is surely a minimum condition for legislative consideration of this perennial argument.

The truckers made a plausible case when they complained about the enforcement complexities of the admittedly confounding "bridge formula" in the present restrictions and when they pointed to a uniform pattern of higher gross weight limits in the states surrounding Wisconsin. Manifestly this poses problems in economic competition, for the carriers as well as the shippers, which in present day Wisconsin includes virtually every business and industry.

Yet the weight controls were imposed in the public interest — to guard against the deterioration of the immensely expensive public roads that have been provided with the taxes assessed against all road users — including the commercial carriers.

The public cannot judge these arguments, technical as they are. The qualified engineers of the highway department can. They were consulted when the present statutes were written. They can testify on the relation of road construction standard improvement since that time and the proper controls to be imposed today.

Have Football, Will Travel

Young men who wish to see all corners of the United States should join the Green Bay Packers or some other professional football team. Before the season opens this year the non-league schedule of the Packers will take them to San Francisco and Portland, Ore., on the west coast; over to Bangor, Maine and down to Winston-Salem, N. C., on the east coast and back to Minneapolis in the midwest.

Oddly enough the schedule is not planned at all for the broadening effects travel may have on the players or the coaches. Professional teams travel to cities off of the regular circuit because promoters in those cities offer them financial guarantees. This arrangement permits the teams to get in practice games before interested crowds other than their regular customers.

In addition to offering an opportunity for practice it also is considered good promotion for the professional teams to get around the country a little bit and make personal appearances before new crowds. Modern football is not played exclusively for the stadium crowds. It also is played for huge television audiences. Pre-season games can be expected to generate interest and thus increase the television audiences.

People who watch football games on TV consider themselves to be enjoying a free show but this is not true. Each football team is paid for its appearance as a television attraction and therefore has an interest in stimulating its TV audience. On the other hand, the teams are considered to be promotion features for their respective home states and thus the Packers carry the name of Wisconsin to every city in which they play and to every point where there is a TV presentation of a Packer game. Thus the pre-season games promote not only football among the spectators but also promote Wisconsin among widely scattered points of the nation.

To get back to the travel, it will be necessary to fly to these distant cities. Thus the Packers may not see as much of the nation as the schedule suggests but they will see a lot of sky.

What Others are Saying

Western Stand Must Be Made in Berlin

From The Des Moines, Iowa, Register

President Eisenhower laid it on the line to Soviet Premier Khrushchev: The United States will stand firm in protecting West Berlin even if this means nuclear war. Khrushchev should not count on western resistance being limited to conventional ground and air warfare.

This is only being realistic. Everybody knows that the NATO powers do not have enough conventional armed strength to prevent a communist takeover in Berlin. The Russians far outnumber the western powers in ground forces on hand in Europe and in reserve at home. Any suggestion from the United States that it would defend Berlin only by "limited war" methods would be almost like handing over Berlin to the communists.

The Eisenhower statement, made at his press conference Wednesday, nevertheless will send a shudder through all western countries. It will cause some rethinking of the Berlin problem on all sides. That is what the president intended, of course. He wants the Russian leadership to know, beyond any doubt, what the consequences of using force in Berlin may be. He also wants the people of the democracies to be under no illusions about what upholding the freedom of West Berlin may mean.

We assume Mr. Eisenhower does not mean that the first and only response of the allied powers to any show of communist force in Germany will be all-out nuclear war.

We assume that the western powers will meet a limited use of force by the communists with a limited use of force on their own part. This has been indicated by reports about Sec. Dulles' consultations with the British and French. If a bridge is blown up, the allies will repair it; if allied troops are met with gunfire they will fire back; and so on.

President Eisenhower has merely put in plain words the ultimate consequence. If the allies find they cannot hold Berlin without use of nuclear weapons, they will use them.

We would feel more comfortable about this situation, frankly, if the United States, Britain and France had more conventional armed power on the spot in Europe. We wish it were possible to make the cost to Khrushchev a god deal higher without going all the way to atomic bombardment.

But in the immediate future, there is no such choice. Mr. Eisenhower stated the situation correctly. And we believe most Americans and most Western Europeans will agree that the stand must be made in Berlin. The free world cannot permit the Soviet Union to gobble up Berlin into the communist empire by force.

Byrnes' Figures Contradict Democrats' Thrift Claims

From Memo of Rep. John W. Byrnes, Green Bay

Last week's Memo referred to the somewhat startling statement by Sen. Lyndon Johnson, senate majority leader, that the Democrats, far from being spenders, actually had saved money by cutting appropriations. Sen. Johnson's principal point was that the last congress had reduced the president's appropriation requests by $5,660 billion. This is true, as far as it goes, but a study of what actually happened in the 85th congress is most illuminating. The figures are from the bureau of the budget:

|  |                 |
|--|-----------------|
| Congress cut appropriations  | $5,660 billion |
| But congress also:   |                 |
| Granted authority to spend in other ways                                   | 3,222 billion   |
| Passed spending bills for which no appropriation was made                  | 1,354 billion   |
| Increased postal and highway fund deficits and supplemental appropriations | 1,827 billion   |
| Authorized spending which president vetoed                                 | 1,876 billion   |
| Reduced tax receipts   | .665 billion    |
| Increased loans and reappropriations                                       | .524 billion    |
| For a total of   | 9,448 billion   |
| Congress therefore approved increases of                                   | 3,788 billion.  |

Must Curtail Foreign Aid to Keep Inflation From Ruining U. S.

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Our federal budget has been balanced only five times in the last 27 years. The debt is now $283 million (or about $2,000 for every man, woman, and child in the U. S.). This crushing American debt, borne by only six per cent of the world's population, is greater than the combined national debts of all the other countries in the entire world. Annual interest on the aid portion of our debt is about $2 billion. This interest, together with foreign aid appropriations, totals some $7 billion each year. Thus, our past and present foreign aid programs are consuming the equivalent of 20 per cent of our personal income tax collections.

"If things go during the next 18 years like they went during the past 18 — and the spenders seem to be determined to have it that way — the dollar will be worth less (in 1975) than 25 cents." So says T. Coleman Andrews, formerly chief collector of income tax for the government.

A committee of nationally known leaders concludes that the following facts are inescapable:

Our government intends that foreign aid shall be continuous and global.

Our foreign aid speeds rather than checks the growth of communism; it inflates our economy; it is partly responsible for the alarming flight of gold from our control; it is destroying our foreign markets and increasing unemployment among American workers.

The threat of communist aggression rules out our continuing to dispense lavish foreign aid when our own economy is threatened and our defenses are inadequate.

In a number of recipient countries our foreign aid helps to strengthen political systems hostile to our own. By the very nature of the foreign aid we extend it must be inefficient and wasteful.

Our governmental foreign aid program is unsound in principle.

To remedy these conditions, the committee makes the following recommendations:

1. That our traditional generous private charity and governmental grants to relieve disaster be continued; that we encourage the expansion of our private missionary efforts.

2. That in countries which we are morally obligated to defend and which are directly threatened with red aggression, military assistance — for the time being — should be continued, but on a realistic basis.

3. That foreign aid which directly or indirectly promotes governments that are hostile to our constitutional concepts of government be ended at once.

4. That so long as governmental foreign aid is continued, the recipient should pay a part of the cost of the proposed project; that our aid should stop when the conditions on which that request is based have been remedied; that private technical, scientific and educational assistance be extended only to friendly peoples who seek our aid on a cash or loan basis.

5. That until foreign aid is terminated, the congress take steps properly to exercise close supervision and control over the manner in which all foreign aid funds are being spent; that all future economic aid, plus what can be salvaged from unexpended foreign aid funds, be diverted to and handled by the Export-Import bank.

6. That the $3.9 billion requested by the president for the fiscal year 1960 be reduced to $2.0 billion, and that each year thereafter foreign aid be substantially reduced until terminated within three years.

If you believe that we cannot hope to save our country by giving it away, point this out to your representatives in Washington.

Suggests Ten Commandments For Parents

Editor, Post-Crescent:

After reading about the teachers convention and the stressed need for discipline, I wish that the copy that I have of Sam Levenson's Home Remedies for Juvenile Delinquency could be posted and observed in every home. I know that is wishful thinking but perhaps if you print it in your paper it will find its way into some at least. I think it is good.

3. Thou shalt honor the teachers of thy children and teach thy children to honor them.

4. Thou shalt not condone the faults of thy children through a misguided sense of loyalty.

5. Thou shalt teach thy children respect for the law and keep them from the companionship of children who indicate disrespect for the law.

6. Thou shalt not lead thy child into temptation by providing him with the means thereof: — to wit, — too much money, a car, and adult privileges.

7. Thou shalt enforce decency in the dress of thy daughters, and dignity in the dress of thy sons.

8. Thou shalt protect the morals of thy children from the indiscretions of youthful ardor and inexperience.

9. Thou shalt conduct thine own affairs in such a manner as to set an example worthy of imitation by the children.

10. Thou shalt not permit thy children to bear arms except in the service of their country.

Thanks Us for Cancer Stories

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Thank you for your splendid editorial entitled — "Now Is the Time to Fight Cancer," that appeared in your Wednesday, April 8, 1959 issue. It was very timely.

Thank you also, for the splendid publicity and news stories that you have always carried in your paper, regarding the programs and goal of the American Cancer Society. Such stories give encouragement to the hundreds of volunteer workers for the Cancer Crusade in the area served by your fine newspaper.

Able Mayor Pierce Takes Office

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of April 17, 1880.

The newly elected mayor Mr. Humphrey Pierce, the city clerk, Mr. A. J. Kress, and aldermen took their seats on Tuesday evening at which time His Honor delivered his able and timely inaugural address.

His recommendations and suggestions are those of a clear headed, careful and discreet man, reflecting credit on his discrimination and good judgment. As we stated last week, our citizens will find that in the selection of Mr. Pierce to preside over the destinies of this city during the ensuing fiscal year they will have one of the best and most efficient mayors the city has ever had.

We are gratified to know that he has an excellent board of aldermen as a moral support to his administration, there being a large infusion of business men in their ranks, and all of them are men of good judgment.

Our best wishes are with the substantial Democratic city administration for a successful and harmonious career during the ensuing fiscal year.

Dulles reentered Walter Reed army hospital here last Sunday, cutting short a Florida rest he had resorted to in credible tirelessness. For one effort to build up his failing strength, Dulles has traveled about the world more than any other secretary.

As Acting Secretary Herter, former Massachusetts governor and congressman, carries on for the time, at least, out a piece of his large intestine in 1956, there was no effort this time to cure by surgery.

Radiation treatments were tried, and Dulles was reported to have stood these well. His strength always has been greater than most who had seen him fairly recently, and he was held that he would get back on the job, to 20 pounds of his normal 185.

Sect Gathers to Await War and Return of God

Waco, Texas — (U) — Hundreds of Davidians, convinced that "the fullness of time has come," start gathering here tomorrow to await the beginning of a Middle-East war.

The sect, a divorced branch of the Seventh Day Adventist church, has advised its members to "sever all earthly ties, if necessary," and to sell property that could not be brought with them to Waco.

Most of them will live in tents being erected near here on the 941-acre tract of the national headquarters, Mt. Carmel center, which includes the sect's offices, church and 16 houses.

"We do not know how soon after the 22nd the war will follow—it may even begin before then—or how long it will last," George W. Saether, a member of the Davidian council, said this week. "But after that Christ will come."

"God just has to do something for the world is going to rack and ruin," he said.

Beginning Saturday the Davidians will conduct three services each day at their national headquarters until after that Christ will come.

Eliminate Sparta Man as Suspect in Wagner Slaying

Milwaukee—(U) — Milwaukee police Tuesday night eliminated a 25-year-old Sparta man being held in La Crosse on a sex offense as a suspect in the kidnap-slaying of 6-year-old Ben Wagner.

Racine police said that a friend of the suspect verified they were together April 4, the night the Wagner boy disappeared. The boy's body, bearing five stab wounds, was found in a drainage ditch in Grafton.

Milwaukee authorities said they were continuing their search for an escaped Milwaukee convict who formerly lived near the Wagner boy's home. The man had been serving an indefinite term in the state prison at Waupun as a sex deviate when he escaped last month. His wife also is missing.

State TV System Cost Placed at Over $3 Million
Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — The state radio council has informed the legislature that a state-wide, state-financed television broadcasting network would require a capital outlay of nearly $3,600,000, plus about $500,000 a year for program preparation and operations.
The idea of a state TV network has been revived by Assemblyman Crawford of Wood County, a Republican, who introduced the measure without reference to the considerable costs of such an undertaking. The expenditure requirements were estimated by the radio council in a fiscal note required to be attached to all spending proposals.
(Half a dozen years ago there was considerable agitation for complementing the tax-paid radio network with a state-wide pattern of state TV broadcasting. The legislature referred the matter to a referendum vote, which was unfavorable.)

Fall Debut Set For Series With William Demarest

BY JINGO

"The Court of Human Relations," created by A. L. Alexander as a radio series in the 1930s, will replace "Haggis Baggis" in the NBC-TV's daytime schedule starting June 22.

Each day a panel of mediators will attempt to settle the problems of persons whose cases are brought before the court. Disputants have to agree beforehand to abide by the court's decision.

"Love and Marriage," a situation comedy series with a Tin Pan Alley background, will go into the NBC-TV schedule somewhere, starting in fall.

Veteran Actor William Demarest stars as a veteran music publisher whose secretary is Singer Kay Armin and whose song plugger is Stubby Kaye.

In the story, Demarest, a widower, lives with his married daughter, her husband and two children. Director for the series is Bob Sweeney, recently signed to play Fibber McGee. Head writer is Mel Shavelson, who held

Pick Company To Supply City Parking Meters

352 Hand-Operated
Units Would Cost
$16,218, Bid Shows

Duncan Parking Meter corporation, Chicago, has been selected to furnish Appleton 352 manually-operated parking meters.

The meters, if the council approves the award tonight, will be used to start a 5-year program to replace 1,014 coin-operated meters.

Duncan's price, $16,218.40 after a 5 per cent discount, is the highest quoted in bids opened March 24 by the board of public works.

Public safety committee members ruled out five other firms for a variety of reasons after listening to salesmen for most of them.

Other Firms

The other firms and the committee's objections:

Ready - Meter company, Minneapolis - The meters would cost $8,577.68, but would require meter maids since no time is shown on them.

Voglesong Products corporation, Emeryville, Calif. - The meters would cost $12,936, but the company has meters only in California and parts would be hard to get.

Mark-Time, Hartford, Conn. - The meters would cost $12,874, but clocks have to be sent back to the factory in program to replace 1,014 coin-operated meters.

College Avenue First Mi - Co Meter, Covington,

Ky. - The meters would cost $14,008, minus a 5 per cent discount. Four cities in the state use this type of meter and are reported replacing them. La Crosse reports loss of revenue from vandalism and higher maintenance cost. Parts must come from Covington.

Dial Parking Meter company, Pittsburgh - The meters would cost $14,044, but are being field tested now for the first time. The company is just entering the hand-operated meter industry.

The meters would be placed on College avenue between Drew and Richmond streets in the first year of the replacement program.

Meeting Postponed

Fremont - The regular meeting of the Wolf River Homemakers, scheduled for Thursday evening, has been postponed. The club will hold

12 Forfeit On Traffic Offenses

Pay $12.95 at Station, Turned Over to Court

Twelve motorists have paid $12.95 bonds at the police station for assorted traffic offenses. The bonds were turned over to municipal court and ordered forfeited.

Charged six points against his driving record for speeding was Elmer H. Podoll, 56, route 2, Appleton.

Charged three points each were Richard D. Eliasson, 24, 408 Ninth street, Menasha; James E. Forster, 27, 3015 E. Wisconsin road; Donald E. Grapedine, 26, 212 Walter avenue, and Donald E. Witt, 34, route 3, Appleton.

Charged three points for speeding and three for ignoring an automatic traffic signal, and forfeiting $12.95 bonds on each charge, was Russell D. Spaulding, 20, 3602 E. Wisconsin road.

Ignored Signs

Charged three points each for ignoring traffic signals were Owen J. Hardy, 37, 933 W. Calumet street; Arnold Hopfensperger, 35, 506 N. Superior street; Allan E. Kielgas, 27, 1518 W. Washington street; Leland R. McGuire, 34, 2213 N. Bennett street, and Robert Schuster, 48, 1342 W. Grant street.

Mrs. Kenneth Rehmer, 501 N. Richmond street, forfeited on a charge of failing to have registration for her car.

'Pushing Out Walls' Idea Behind Malik

Series of Speakers to Review World Problems in Appleton

An idea for "pushing out the walls" for both Lawrence college and the surrounding community will come to fruition next week when Dr. Charles Malik, president of the United Nations and delegate from Lebanon, speaks in Memorial chapel at 8:30 p.m. April 21.

Free tickets for the talk will be available at Lawrence college offices and at the Post-Crescent offices in Appleton and Neenah-Menasha.

The "pushing out walls" idea has been germinating between President Douglas M. Knight of Lawrence and Editor Victor J. Minnan, Jr., of the Post-Crescent since last summer.

Need Encounter

Both men felt people of this area have not had sufficient chance to encounter people who were worried about issues in our society. They proposed to bring to Appleton during the next several years a series of eminent personalities to discuss "America and the World Community."

This is related to the general effort of the college in pushing out the walls for our students. President Knight said: "It fits with our pattern of new courses—the incorporation of Russian language and Russian history and government into the curriculum—along with the first steps in Asian studies. We are doing this not by cutting down on our own tradition, but by adding to it. The newspaper is interested in doing the same thing for the community at large."

Carnes will compete at the state contest in Waukesha May 30.

Marinette Couple Today's Deaths

Buy Alamo Plaza Motel for $80,000

The 10-unit Alamo Plaza motel on Highway 41, south of Spencer street, has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wiltzius, Marinette, for $80,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Kohl, Appleton.

Joseph J. Engel of Engel Realtors, who handled the sale, said the Wiltzius' plan to increase the motel to 20 or 30 units in the near future.

Expansion plans would cost between $50,000 and $70,000, he estimated.

The motel was built by Kohl in 1954.

The Wiltzius' are moving into owner's living quarters at the motel today.

Leonard J. Sommer, Cheesemaker, Dies

Leonard J. Sommer, 70, retired cheesemaker and farmer, died unexpectedly at his Shawano home at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Born Nov. 15, 1888, at Dale, he operated cheese factories in Outagamie and Winnebago counties before moving to a farm in the town of Waukechon near Shawano in 1935. He moved to the city on returning in 1937.

Survivors include his wife; two sons, Edward, Shawano, and Lawrence, San Carlos, Calif.; four grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Adeline Zitzke, New London, and two brothers, Simon and Raymond, both of Appleton.

Oscar Toebaas, Famed Attorney, Dies in Florida

Oscar T. Toebaas, 71, a native of Iowa and one of the state's best known attorneys, died Monday while vacationing in Palm Beach, Fla. He was a Madison resident since 1910. He and his wife went to Florida in March.

He served as a trial attorney in nearly court in the state. He was a former president of the Wisconsin Bar association, president of the Madison club, a 32nd degree Mason, former president of the Madison Navy league and was elected to the American College of Trial Lawyers, one of the highest honors available in the profession.

When Justice Chester A. Fowler died in April, 1948, Gov. Oscar Rennebohm asked Toebaas to fill the unexpired term but he refused.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Friday in Bethel Lutheran church, Madison, with burial in Forest Hill cemetery, Madison. Friends may call at the Fitch-Lawrence Funeral home, Madison, after 7 p.m. Thursday.

He is survived by his widow and a son, Theodore, who was one of his law partners.

Youths Hurt in Accident With Stolen Car

A stolen car was towed back to Appleton this morning after it was involved in accident that landed two youths in New London Community hospital.

The car was stolen from a N. Richmond street service station parking lot some time after 10:30 p.m. Tuesday. Miss Keith Ann Nelson, 601 N. Richmond street, had parked it there.

In the hospital are Greg Hockers, 18, 618 Dickinson street, New London with chest injuries, and Frank Quapp, 17, Adams-Friendship, with a head cut and abrasions on the arm.

Quapp told Waupaca county police he was the driver when the car went out of control on a curve on Highway 10 a mile east of Fremont about 4 a.m. today.

The patrol said the car rolled end over end for 400 feet to the highway before crashing into a fence. The ignition area of community, national and international life.

There was a quantity of cigarettes, cigars and a gasoline can in the car which Miss Nelson told police did not belong to her.

Traditions Need Redefinition, Knight Says

Education, Religion Share Responsibility For Modern Concerns

"Both education and religion confront the same question of revivifying the best kind of democratic way of life," Dr. Douglas M. Knight, 11th president of Lawrence college, told the 13th annual Wisconsin Pastor's conference this morning, meeting at the American Baptist assembly at Green Lake.

Speaking on "Christian Concerns in Education," Dr. Knight observed that both education and religion are concerned with traditions, and ways in which they can be made alive for people today. He noted that both are profoundly concerned with the responsible individual and his relationships with others.

President Knight defined the nature of American community as: "Shared purpose, conviction, insight — in the country taken as a whole." In the turbulent century since the Civil war, he said, "we have come dangerously close to losing all sense of what we are as a nation. We have the technical means available for building a real sense of our kinship as a society; we have not yet decided whether to use them for good ends or stupid ones."

Liberal Tradition

He further defined the nature of a liberal college: "The word liberal means free, it means the opposite of enslaved, and when applied to a college it suggests the education of those who will possess the responsibility of freedom in the future of their society."

The tempo of cultural change is one of our greatest problems, he said. "There has been a curious double development in Europe and America since 1650. On the one hand, a steadily increasing pace; and on the other hand, a steadily increasing degree of impact, so that each decision, each historical or economic event affects more people in more complex ways than ever before."

Decisions Complex

"If we have learned to face this difficulty in temporal terms, we have come in our own time to face it equally in geographic terms. Our decisions are steadily more complex, not just because their tempo increases, but because their scope increases. We are reduced again in our time to a humility which has been quite unfashionable in human affairs since the Renaissance."

"We have lived for three centuries with the conviction that our knowledge of the physical universe, and our increasing power over it, were reliable symbols of our control over every aspect of our environment. Within the last 50 years, however, we have discovered two central arenas of experience in which few of our earlier guarantees seemed end over end for 400 feet to work—the arena of inner and personal life, and the arena of community, national and international life."

"We cannot do justice to the dilemmas of democracy," he said, "without realizing how many of those dilemmas reside within ourselves."

Committee Suggests Denial of Tucker Plea

Controller Question Settled; Ruling
Is No Need for Purchasing Agent Now

Ald. Austin N. Tucker's resolution calling for a citizen's committee to study a combined controller and purchasing agent post has been recommended for denial by the finance committee.

The committee previously expressed disfavor with the proposal, but held it for more study.

Monday, the committee said action was taken last November to hire a controller some time this summer and there is no need at present for a purchasing agent.

Other committee action: The bill from Milwaukee for use of Milwaukee equipment in snow control this winter, amounting to $1,833, was ordered paid.

The salary of Dr. Marvin Kagen, newly named health commissioner, was set at $100 a month.

Wages for the meat inspector were placed back on a monthly salary schedule after a trial on an hourly basis.

The salary of Melville Flagstad, new relief director, was set at $5,285 a year, with a month car allowance.

He takes over May 1. Social security payments April 3.

Permits Issued for Industrial Project, Drive-in Food Stand

Circle Machinery and Supply company has received a permit to remodel its building at 1712 W. Eighth street for about $4,500. A storage area will be placed under roof, a company spokesman said.

William Dagneau has received a permit to construct a drive-in food stand at 1309 E. Wisconsin avenue for about $4,000.

amounting to $5,810, based on a payroll of $232,425.14 for the first quarter, were authorized. Employers Mutual Liability Insurance company of Wisconsin reported $868 paid out in claims and $1,970 held in reserves for pending claims during the period Aug. 7 to Aug. 3.

Stand Avoided On Downtown Depot Request

Committee Denies Suggestion About Parking Gates

The city council's public safety committee has declined to take a stand on asking the Chicago and North Western to make regular stops at its downtown depot.

Committeemen decided to "hold" the resolution of Ald. Tucker. The meeting was the last for the committee.

Other committee actions: Tucker's resolution calling for parking gates on the N. Morrison street parking lot was denied. The committee said the suggestion, however, should be investigated when the city considers replacing meters on off-street lots.

Deny Parking Ban

Eleven petitioners' request for 2-hour parking between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Melvin street between Outagamie and Douglas streets was held.

Checks on two days. Traffic Sgt. Gosch reported, show 12 and 8 cars parked, but the problem is expected to be solved shortly when Miller Electric Manufacturing company, Inc., expands one of its parking lots and adds another across from Goodland field.

The library was given permission to park the bookmobile in front of the library from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and on the parking lot at Washington and Morrison streets Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights.

A street light was ordered installed at Parkway boulevard and Summit street.

Take Down Sign

The "No Parking from Here to Corner" sign on the west side of Meade street, south of College avenue was ordered removed.

A letter from the YMCA asking for 5-minute parking on the west side of Oneida street at the YMCA is being held for completion of a survey ordered sometime ago.

The Appleton Downtown Retail association's request for revision of parking meter charges and fines also was held. The association has not yet distributed copies of its survey.

Erhard Maps Stand He Will Take if He Succeeds Adenauer

Bonn — Ludwig Erhard said Tuesday that if he succeeds Konrad Adenauer as chancellor he will follow Adenauer's basic principles on foreign policy but may engage in some different tactical maneuvers.

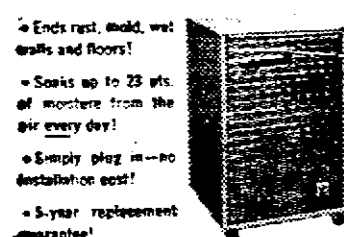

The 62-year-old economics minister set forth this view before the Foreign Press association. It was his first appearance before the press since Adenauer announced a week ago he will give up the chancellorship to run for the more ceremonial post of president.

Erhard, chief architect of West Germany's spectacular postwar recovery, is regarded as the leading candidate to succeed Adenauer. He refused to announce himself as a candidate. To a direct question of whether he wanted the job, he replied: "No comment."

He left little doubt, however, that he saw himself as a leading potential candidate. For instance, he declined to say whether he would stay on as economics minister under a chancellor other than Adenauer.

World-Wide Skiing Inspires Unusual Party

BY SUSAN NOYES
Post-Crescent Society Editor

"We're gathering together from the four corners of the skiing world... read the invitation sent recently to skiing enthusiasts in the Fox River valley.

And so Saturday night 80 guests met at the home of Miss Cindy Thomson, 2615 Vinland road, Oshkosh, for an evening of song and fellowship and to exchange experiences of ski trails the world over.

A crew of eight hosts and hostesses who had enjoyed winter vacations in the Western Rockies and the European Alps welcomed their stay-at-home friends.

Avid Ski Fans

Co-entertaining with Cindy were the Misses Janis Rowan, Appleton, Joyce Bohnsack, Appleton, Carol Richardson, Neenah, Joann Du France, Menasha; and Ken Masaros, Appleton, Fred Heinemann, Appleton, and Jim Grunwaldt, Black Creek.

Avid ski fans, they had traveled thousands of miles to pursue the sport. Carol and Fred joined an expedition of United States skiers to the Alpen resorts of Kitzbuehl, Davos and St. Anton.

The others were lured by the high - mounting Rockies. Janis journeyed to Sun Valley, Idaho, while Cindy, Joyce, Joann, Ken and Jim tried the Colorado slopes at Aspen, Winter Park, Arapaho and Loveland.

Gay Ski Clothes

Now benched for the season, they donned their ski clothes for a final time. Gay stretch pants and colorful hand-fashioned sweaters were popular party costumes, while others chose velvet capri pants and paisley - patterned jackets.

Carol and Fred showed off European skiwear. She teamed gold stretch pants with a black Swiss yodeling skirt, embroidered in black and gold. Her shirt is typical of the costume donned by the Swiss for Sunday yodeling expeditions. Fred topped royal blue stretch pants with a hand-knit beige sweater.

Decor carried out the international skiing theme. The walls were sprinkled with the skiis hung over the fireplace. Tables covered with checked tablecloths were showered with souvenir matches from foreign resorts.

Serve Gluhwein

Conversation piece on the buffet table was a large punch bowl filled with gluhwein, a traditional skier's beverage, as she practices a forward bend. The exercise is familiar to skiers who work toward a flexible Achilles heel, a tendon in the back of the leg.

ing spicy wine is served at resorts in the late afternoon as the skiers return from a day on the hills.

Contributing to the mood were recorded ski and yodeling tunes and German drinking songs. And, as the evening wore on, slides of falling snow were shown, setting the travelers to reminiscing and their guests to dreaming of future excursions.

Skiing Round the World was the unusual motif chosen by eight Fox Valley enthusiasts who entertained at an informal party Saturday night. Crossed skis and travel posters frame Miss Carol Richardson, left, Miss Joann Du France, Menasha, Miss Cindy Thomson and Jim Grunwaldt, Black Creek. The party was given at Miss Thomson's home, 2615 Vinland road, Oshkosh.

Vince Derscheid, Appleton, tempts Miss Thomson with a dipper of gluhwein, traditional skier's beverage, as she practices a forward bend. The exercise is familiar to skiers who work toward a flexible Achilles heel, a tendon in the back of the leg.

In Good Taste Should Girl Date Boy at His House?

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I am 19 and a freshman in college. My mother and I have argued over one special problem for some time and I hope you can settle it for me. I have dated one boy for the last two years. We both think a lot of each other but we are also very serious about our college and careers. Very often we spend our date at a movie or just watching TV at my house. This is perfectly all right but when he invites me to come to his house for the evening, my mother's reply is, "No, it isn't nice for a young lady to go to a man's house." Please don't misunderstand. I would never go when he was there alone. Every once in a while he must stay home for some reason and if his parents are not home his 14-year-old brother is always there. I don't understand why I can't go to his house when it's all right for him to come to my house, and I think my mother is being unreasonable.

Answer: When his parents are there, you may quite properly go to his house, but I agree with your mother that you will risk being criticized if you go when they are not home, even though his brother is there.

Handbag for Wedding

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know if it is in good taste to carry a handbag to a wedding. I have been told that this just isn't done.

Answer: Certainly it is proper for a woman guest to carry a handbag to a wedding. It should not, however, be a large utility bag but rather a small evening bag.

Introduction

Dear Mrs. Post: When a husband and wife are both doctors, what is the proper way to introduce them? Would it be Dr. and Mrs., or Dr. John and Dr. Jane?

Answer: Dr. John and Dr. Jane Smith.

Sealed Creases Seal Bread Dough

When you are baking a loaf of bread, be sure to seal the ends of the loaf shape together well by pinching the creases in the dough together with your fingers.

Many of the 80 Guests were introduced to gluhwein, a hot spiced wine served at ski resorts at the close of an afternoon on the slopes. Miss Janis Rowan, Appleton, serves the beverage to Miss Barbara Dietz, Neenah, left, Jerry Rusch, Menasha, and George Kubisiak, New Boston.

Gluhwein Refreshing, Warm Drink

Gluhwein, the hot spicy wine drink, served at the skiing party, is an easy-to-make concoction and a refreshing substitute for such warm-up beverages as hot buttered rum.

Proportions used at the party were figured to serve 40 people. The recipe is easily scaled down for smaller groups.

Gluhwein

2 gallons chianti wine (or any inexpensive red wine)
3 small cans of frozen orange juice concentrate (1 large can may be substituted)
2 1/2 inch oranges, cut in rings 1/2 inch thick
1 lemon, cut in rings 1/2 inch thick handful of seedless raisins
3 teaspoons nutmeg
6 cinnamon sticks

Mix together, allowing fruit rings to float on top. Heat in kettle over low fire, taking care that beverage doesn't boil. When thoroughly heated, pour in punch bowl and serve. Drink may be diluted with water to individual taste.

Parents Tell Engagements of Judith Chopin

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Chopin, 617 W. Seymour street, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Judith Grace, to David Leete Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marston L. Patterson, Coral Gables, Fla.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Greenwich, Conn., High school and attended the University of Connecticut and Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind. She is employed by the Brady company.

Mr. Patterson is a graduate of Newington, Conn., High school and is a junior at the University of Connecticut. He is affiliated with Chi Phi fraternity.

The couple will wed in summer rites.

High School Boys Air Some Favorite Gripes About Teenage Girls

Do high school girls have annoying habits that irk their young male friends? Yes, chorused three male high school seniors, members of a football team, when asked that question. It seems campus kings dress up for dates these days, and a date is a big deal.

"We don't hang around killing time at the local bee hives. When we have a date, we want it to count," says one of the 18-year-old students who earns his date money by working in a garage weekends and after school. Here's how the gripes simmer:

Makeup Mistakes
"Makeup? They don't mind it, providing it 'doesn't bounce off the face,' as one boy put it. 'Why does a girl have to smear her mouth with lipstick, anyway?' he asks.

One of the boys claimed that three girls smeared his suit with lipstick at one dance he attended. Other objections include too-long fingernails, heavy mascara, obvious eye shadow.

Clothes? "I don't want to take a girl out to hear other fellows whistling at her," is the response of one boy to the plunge neckline, skin-tight dress idea. The tight-fitting sweater also annoys these boys.

Advice includes: Don't try to be sophisticated. Save long earrings and your mother's fur piece for an important occasion. "It puts a guy on a spot to see you dressed up when he can afford only a movie and ice cream soda," say the boys.

Fashion Errors
"Oh, yes," adds another boy. "I'm all for organizing babushka raiding parties and burning every babushka we can locate. There must be more attractive hair coverings available to hold hair in place, even in the wind. Why do girls choose such unflattering headgear?"

The tease? The girl who leads a boy on to get a date will not be asked again. She blinks her eyelashes, holds hands in the ice cream parlor, but screams when a boy tries to kiss her after a date. "Some girls are just out for the good time you can give them," says a dejected boy.

The casual type? She's so casual, she's careless, these young men point out. "You wouldn't mind her wearing a cement-mixer hairdo, if she combed it occasionally. The girls are at fault in other ways, say the boys.

They always have a coat of polish on their toenails at the beach — "but sometimes their legs look hairier than a pool table's. The trouble is when a girl goes too casual, she acts like she's competing with a man."

How do they want a girl to behave? The consensus is they like a girl to "be herself," a girl "who dresses at her own age level," "good character," a girl "whose conversation isn't limited to trying to solve the problems of the world when she can't solve her own school or family situations," a girl who is "jolly without resorting to man-talk to prove she's good fun."

ITCHING
Tormented by itching of dry skin, simple piles, common skin irritation? Soothing, medicated Reimol Ointment is a proved reliever of such distress. Its ingredients, often used by doctors, act gently to give soothing comfort. Get Reimol at all druggists.

IS "IRON-HUNGRY BLOOD" MAKING YOU ONLY "HALF" A WOMAN?
Are You So Run-Down You Can't Give Your Husband and Family Real Companionship? Then Discover The Wonderful Blood-Strengthening Action of This Special Iron Tonic for Women!

How tragic when a woman feels so tired, so weak and run-down she can't be a real companion! Luckily, it's often due to "Iron-Hungry Blood" (simple iron deficiency anemia). Then it's need- less for those women to suffer such awful weariness.

Now, a wonderful iron tonic can help relieve this condition... thus renew your vitality! It's Lydia E. Pinkham's Tablets, only iron tonic made especially for women! Rich in iron, Pinkham's Tablets start to strengthen "Iron-Hungry Blood" in one day!

FOR FEMALE AILMENTS! Doctors' tests prove famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound (liquid) also brings quick relief from discomforts of monthly pain and change-of-life.

Baritone, Duo-Pianists To Give Campus Recital

A baritone and duo-pianists will present a recital at 8:15 p. m. Thursday at the Lawrence conservatory of music. The concert, which is open to the public, will feature Donald Gresch, Beaver Dam, and pianists Ronald Leu, Fond du Lac, and Ronald Sindelar, Manitowoc.

Gresch is a junior and a member of both the concert and the Lawrence Singers. In 1957 he won first place in a voice student audition of the Wisconsin Music Teachers' association. He studies with George Cox of the conservatory.

Leu, a senior, was recently named to Pi Kappa Lambda, music honorary group. He is a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity, participates in the concert choir, and has received scholastic high honors.

Tell Program

Sindelar, a junior, participates in the symphony orchestra, the band, and the little symphony. In 1958 he was awarded the Pi Kappa Lambda sophomore prize. He has received scholastic high honors.

The program is as follows:

night the mercury fell to a chilly 36 degrees. By 11 a. m. today the thermometer showed a warm 64-degree reading.

The forecast is for some cooling Thursday and possible showers.

Elsewhere in the country, cool air chilled portions as far south as Florida and north to Washington and Oregon. Minneapolis was just as warm.

as Miami, which felt the chill of cool air that extended from southern New England into the southland. The mercury in both cities was 56 degrees Tuesday. Miami's daily high of 72 compared with a maximum of 78 at Fargo, N. D.

Snow fell in Washington, Oregon, and northern Idaho. A slow warming trend was reported in the states east of the Great Lakes.

Switch Procedure in Closing Eldorado St.

School Board to Meet With Opponents; Citizens to Seek Petition in Favor

A switch in procedure to vacate Eldorado street to expand the Edison school site has been endorsed by the school board, board of public works and street committee.

The switch requires: Street committee to withhold action on a petition opposing vacating.

School board members to explain to the opponents why vacating is needed.

Citizens to gather a petition in favor of vacating.

The school board Monday told Mrs. Robert Johnson, 827 E. College avenue, it will send letters to the 53 opponents "explaining our position, questioning their arguments and asking them to a meeting."

Counselors From Fox Cities Will Meet in Oshkosh

Several guidance counselors from the Fox Cities area will be in a group of counselors from Wisconsin colleges and high schools meeting in Oshkosh Friday to discuss guidance problems.

Dr. Harry J. Colgan, psychiatrist and clinical director of Winnebago State hospital, will be keynote speaker at a noon luncheon to open the conference.

Among those attending from the Fox Cities are Miss Dorothy Edkins, girls counselor, and N. D. Wells, dean of boys, Washington High, New London. B. G. Weiss and Miss Sophia Haase, both guidance counselors, Oshkosh High; Gilbert Muellenbach, guidance director, Shawano High; Miss Mary E. Morton, dean of women, and Alexander R. Cameron, dean of men, Lawrence college; Walter Schmidt, dean of boys, and Miss Kathleen Davis, dean of girls, Kaukauna High; Charles W. Cook, dean of boys, Appleton High; President S. W. Ihlenfeldt, Outagamie County Teachers college, Kaukauna; and Mrs. Ruth Nelson, dean of women, Dr. David Bowman, director of teacher training, Dr. John Mook, director of testing, and Dr. Gordon V. Drake, coordinator of guidance services, Wisconsin State college, Oshkosh.

Meet Next Week

The meeting is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, April 23 at Edison school.

Mrs. Johnson was advised Monday by the street committee that a petition in which owners of a third of the front property a half mile on each side of the part to be vacated is needed, or the street probably won't be vacated.

The opposing petition, committee explained, contains more than enough property, under present state law, to forbid vacating if the council acts on its own without a petition of request.

But, they explained, if a petition of request precedes council action, the amount of property against vacating build the new school on the old school site and avoid

Transport Too Costly

Ald. Douglas Ogilvie Tuesday told the works board of school board objections to transporting 388 Edison students for two years while a new school is constructed on the old school site. Street committeemen had pointed out the 1,080-student Madison Junior High had plenty of room.

This would cost $56,000, he said, the school board believes, and there are other hidden costs. It would be less costly, he said, to buy the four adjacent lots suggested.

Works board members reported they would rather ported they would rather property against vacating build the new school on the old school site and avoid

Nicest wagon that ever joined your family!

Chevy's station wagons should really be called family wagons. You can choose from five models, including the four-door nine-passenger Kingswood, with its rear-facing rear seat.

Here's a brisk and breezy wagon that'll take on any chore you name, from a trip to the beach to a journey home from the lumberyard. There's room, you see, for a whole half-ton of cargo—a space ten feet long, with the rear seat and tailgate down.

These wagons are easy to load, too—you just roll the rear window into the tailgate and flip it down flat. No lugging to wrestle with.

Chevrolet's so easy to handle it's a natural for the lady of the house. Big, safer brakes, too. Chevy's even got bigger tires—they come as standard equipment on every one of our wagons. But why not fall in love with a Chevy firsthand—at your Chevrolet dealer's!

"IT'S MY very own" is a favorite saying with most children. And your moppet will be proud to apply it to a small window garden. You can buy one already prepared to set to grow in a sunny window. Or, let her make her own, with your guidance. The fun is in caring for it as it grows. Most satisfactory results!

Benson Pushes For Farm Law Action

States Congress Drags Feet on President's Agricultural Program

BY OVID A. MARTIN

Washington — Sec. of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson is trying to goad the Democrats into action on farm legislation.

Two weeks in four days, the Republican farm chief has accused Congress of inaction on farm program recommendations from his congressional critics. President Eisenhower made likely to Benson's call in a news conference last Friday the speech, to "every citizen day, and resumed the attack—every businessman, every in a speech Monday before tax payer, every housewife, the Associated Retail Bakers every consumer, every person interested in a sound economy to join in the demand for congressional action.

In a speech, Benson accused administration opponents of being "just against any in the past have brought against federal aid to agriculture. The secretary has deposed." As for themselves, son seeks to line up the non-these people, he added, can't agree on a constructive solution.

The secretary said the administration's policy was to get government out of agriculture and give farmers more freedom to run their affairs. In this connection Benson proposes lower prices supports and fewer restrictions on production.

Expect Rebuttals These Benson slaps could be expected to bring rebuttals from his congressional critics. President Eisenhower made likely to Benson's call in a news conference last Friday the speech, to "every citizen day, and resumed the attack—every businessman, every in a speech Monday before tax payer, every housewife, the Associated Retail Bakers every consumer, every person interested in a sound economy to join in the demand for congressional action.

Farmers Get $628,903 in FHA Loans

A total of $628,903 in operating loan funds have been advanced to Winnebago and Outagamie farmers by the Farmers Home administration since November, 1956, according to Robert Wilms, county FHA supervisor.

A total of 91.6 per cent of the matured principal on outstanding chattel loans has been paid, he said.

The money has been used for purchasing livestock, equipment, feed, seed and other farm operations. A total of $366,112 has been repaid, leaving a balance of $262,791.

Wilms reported. Interest collected amounts to $53,162.

Analysis of operating loan borrowers' records for 1958 shows average gross farm income was $7,566, with average farm expense of $4,563. The borrowers operated an average size farm of 123 crop acres, had 22.9 cows with average production of 8,160 pounds of milk per cow. Average gross income per crop acre was $39.10, slightly less than the 1957 total.

 Best on rough roads where Nylon's famed flexing strength cuts road shock and rupture damage. Steel-like Nylon is stronger than any other cord.
 Longer wearing because Nylon is not affected by moisture entry. With Nylon cord body, the strength of the carcass is retained even if cuts occur in the tread.
 Safe at high speeds because Nylon's high heat resistance and rapid cooling qualities prevent dangerous heat buildup. Gives extra protection on rough side roads.
 Easier, smoother driving as Nylon smoothes road shocks, cuts driving tension. Nylon flexes easily, losing none of its strength to prevent ruptures of the tire from hard jolts.

Co-op Leaders Want Copyrighted Label for State Dairy Products

Pure Milk Organization Getting Restive Over Promotion Program

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent, Madison Bureau

Madison — Leaders of the Pure Milk Products cooperative, one of the state's largest associations of milk producers, are becoming restive about the promotion efforts of organized dairying.

Per capita consumption of milk in the nation is declining and more imaginative and aggressive merchandising is needed to protect the producer, according to W. C. Eckles, manager of the big cooperative.

Only because of population gains in the country was total milk consumption of the nation maintained last year, he says, adding:

"It is time that dairy interests took a long and hard look at the methods that are being used and try to come up with a sound solution to merchandising, promotion and effective ways of increasing or maintaining per capita uses of milk and dairy products."

One scheme that has been under discussion by Eckles and other cooperative leaders, their house organ currently discloses, is a merchandising program under state auspices that would market dairy products under a copyrighted Wisconsin label, with the backing of a producer and processor tax on dairy commodities.

Preliminary Talks

The cooperative intends to explore such a plan with Gov. Gaylord Nelson, it was reported, preparatory to suggesting a concrete legislative enabling act.

Marketing highest quality dairy foods under a state brand has an appeal to these cooperative chieftains.

"We cannot compete in markets without identifying our products," said President Paul Affeldt of the organization.

"It is time for dairy farmers of Wisconsin to merchandise and create markets for their high quality products under a label," echoed Eckles.

125 Attend Pig Show In Seymour

Seymour — Over 125 interested farmers and vocational agricultural students from the Seymour High school attended the second annual feeder pig show at the Seymour fairgrounds. Ten pens of six pigs each were entered in the show.

Exhibiting blue ribbon pens were George Skaletski, route 2, Green Bay, grand champion pen; Donald Marasch, Cecil, reserve champion pen; Darrell Mueller, route 2, Seymour, and Outagamie County farm, Appleton.

Winners in the red ribbon group were Ken Townsend, Waupaca; Ken Natzke, Bonduel; Clinton Brehmer, Abrams; and Adolph Brehmer, Abrams. Winning white ribbons were Robert Diemel, route 1, Bonduel, and Evert Anderson, Waupaca.

A judging contest was held as part of the morning's program and winners in the adult division were Alvin Kramer and James Vandewall, both of route 1, Seymour. The junior winners were Terry Rettler, Black Creek, and Tom Skaletski, route 2, Green Bay.

Prizes for the judging contest were donated by Seymour Cooperative exchange, Seymour Flour Mill, and Dr. Frank Metcalf, local veterinarian.

Eiting Farm Purchased by John Peters

Forest Junction — The Lester Eiting farm of a little over 90 acres, about two miles northwest of Forest Junction, in the town of Woodville, has been purchased by John Peters, nearby landowner, who plans to begin operations about May 15.

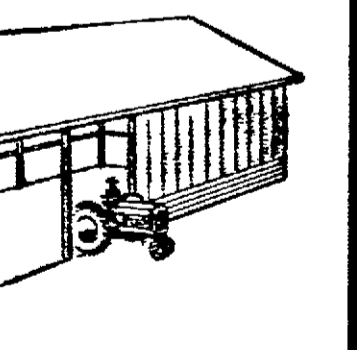

The Peters farm of a little over 100 acres of the Woodville — Brillion town line has been purchased by Harold Krueger, who will operate the place with his present town of Woodville holdings one mile south.

The Peters farm is one of the former Flatley tracts, originally settled by that family in the middle 1860s.

Eiting, who was elected chairman of town Woodville by a write-in vote Tuesday, plans to move to a home in nearby Dundas.

Farmer Cuts Hand On Circular Saw

Leeman — Four stitches were needed to close a wound in the hand of Roy Cook, 77. A circular saw caught the back of the hand while he was sawing wood at his home Saturday. He was treated at a Clintonville doctor's office.

Asserts Farm Program Hikes Public Debt

Analyst Declares Higher Prices Would Increase Tax Revenue

Washington — A private economic analyst declared Tuesday that a $15 billion increase in the public debt was a price the nation paid last year for permitting farm prices to be below what he called proper levels.

Carl H. Wilken, a consulting economist in the agricultural and raw materials field, said that if farm prices had been at suitable levels, the national income would have been $81 billion higher than it was.

Possible Surplus

The resulting tax revenues he said, would have provided the government with a surplus rather than a deficit.

Wilken gave these views in a statement prepared for a special meeting of the house agriculture committee.

Wilken said that farm prices should and must be maintained at full parity if the nation is to attain a healthy economic state. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices charged them. Last year's farm prices averaged slightly above 80 per cent of parity.

Five Billion Boys Will Attend Forest Maiden Forest

Brillion — Five students from the Brillion High school will attend the "Trees for Tomorrow Camp" at Eagle River on April 26-29.

They are Jay Stradel, Allan Puser, William Rank, Robert Radloff and Ronald Behnke. The students will be accompanied by Donald Lyndahl of the high school faculty.

The trip is designed to give the students a first hand view of good conservation practices in Wisconsin forests, water and soil. The students are chosen who have displayed a definite interest in conservation. The Wisconsin Public Service Corporation sponsors the trip. The Brillion boys will join boys from Chilton and Valders.

Annexation
Gets Approval
Area Includes City
Industrial Park,
Part of Schuh Farm
An estimated 83-acre annexation on the west side of Perkins street was recommended Tuesday by the board of public works.
Included in the tract are the city's 40-acre industrial development park, a Chicago and North Western railroad right-of-way strip and 43 acres of the Schuh farm. The park is north of the tracks, the farm south.
Annexation of the farm was sought originally in December, but the petition was withdrawn when it was suggested by City Atty. Jury that it be tied to the pending railroad-park annexation.
Can Serve With Sewers
Works board members stalled the annexation last month with questions about whether the city would be able to furnish sewer service to the farm and the park.
Tuesday, Director of Public Works Duszynski said it would be possible to serve all but the western part of the farm area, but service to a planned strip expansion along Perkins street to College avenue would be sacrificed. With the widened area west of Perkins street at the tracks, it will be possible to serve a Perkins street strip only as far as Spencer street, providing service isn't extended too far west into the farm, he said.
Three manufacturers are reportedly interested in obtaining small tracts in the industrial park for expansion of their business.

Low Bidder for City Sewer Work
A. J. Kienast and Sons, Oshkosh, Tuesday was apparent low bidder on the first storm sewer project of 1959. The company quoted a total price of $37,427.70 to the board of public works. The bid, and six others, were referred to Director of Public Works Duszynski for tabulation and will be brought back to the board for award of contract.
The sewers will be installed at the following locations: Hoover, Jefferson to Jackson. Hoover to half block north.
Lawe, Harding to Hoover. Oneida, South River to McKinley.
Packard, Division to Superior.
Hillcrest, Reid to Prospect.

Fred R. Krause, chairman of the county highway committee and defeated for Thirteenth ward supervisor by John G. Dietz in the April 7 election, said today he would seek election to the committee during the Outagamie county board's April 21 organizational meeting.
Krause, a member of the committee for 19 years, is retired.
The state statute does not specify election to the county board as a condition of being named to the highway committee. Outagamie county once before, many years ago, had a non-supervisor member of the county highway committee, it was recalled. In Waupaca county men who are not supervisors are among committee members.
Also applying for the highway committee is Armin B. Scheurle, Sixteenth ward supervisor, and Fifth ward Supv. Frank R. Appleton has indicated an interest in the post.
Members of the highway committee for the last year were Krause; Black Creek Supv. I. A. Grunwaldt, vice chairman; Kaukauna Third ward Supv. Matt J. Verfurth, secretary; Bovina Supv. Ervin Conradt, and Osborn Supv. Edward Peotter.
The highway committee is elected by the board, picking its own officers.

3 Ordinances
Face Council
For Last Time
Three ordinances go to the city council tonight for the last time. If passed, they will become law upon publication in the Post-Crescent.
One makes Division street an arterial street from Wisconsin avenue to the north city limits.
Another permits platting of streets with 50-foot right-of-ways in special cases.
The last bans parking on the south side of Prospect avenue from 331 W. Prospect driveway west 150 feet.
Another ordinance, rezoning two lots on Woodland avenue at Meade street to permit construction of a clinic by Dr. Edward J. Zeiss, will be started through the legal procedure again, this time incorporating a deed restriction that forbids construction of any other kind of building.

Cyclist Hurt
A passenger on a motorcycle was hurt about 8:30 p.m. Tuesday when the cycle skidded on loose gravel in the 100 block of S. Oneida street.
Taken to St. Elizabeth hospital by Larry's ambulance with hip injuries was Harvey Zember, 18, 401 Commercial street, Neenah. Driver was Thomas J. B r o a s, 21, 656 Lakecrest drive, Menasha.
Car Fire
Firemen extinguished a minor blaze in the front seat of an automobile parked in the 500 block of N. Badger avenue about 2 p. m. Tuesday.

But Truck Routes
City councilmen tonight will be asked to order a 15,000-pound truck weight limit on all streets except those designated as truck routes.
Traffic Sgt. Gosch told the public safety committee a weight restriction was removed from the city ordinances when the truck route ordinance was recodified in 1957.
Placing weight limitations on the truck route streets, Gosch said, is impossible.
The committee recommendation is in reply to resolutions submitted by Ald. Mrs. Stillings and Loos.
She wanted limitations for all streets and the truck routes. He wanted a load restriction for Atlantic street from State to Richmond street.

Our Charlie's Rambling Ranges From Business Brain to Baseball

Petparr: The much touted brain of international business machines has come up with the answer (don't ask me, is it right?) to the biggest mathematical problem ever computed.

The problem, which required 13 million separate operations, was answered after the brain mullied it over for 137 hours . . . if a top-level mathematician had attempted to answer the same problem, he would have had to work eight bustling hours daily for 1,370 years. . .

How is your driving? "Sieur sells, wholesale or retail, all sorts of arms, legs, noses, eyes, or teeth, made in the gentlest manner, as now worn by persons of rank in France. . . He also cures effectively the most stinking breaths by drawing out and eradicating all decayed teeth and stumps, without the least pain or confinement; and putting in their stead an entire set of right African ivory teeth, set in rose-colored enamel so nicely fitted to the jaws that people of the first fashion may eat, drink, swear, talk scandal, quarrel, and show their teeth without the least indecency, inconvenience or hesitation whatever."

Now that baseball is back in the news full sway, it may interest you to know that the first time the phrase "double header" was used was in 1896; that "squeeze play" first appeared in 1905; that "foul ball" was not seen in print until 1860; that "batter" was first printed in 1869; that "inning" was first used in 1856; that "plate" was first used in 1857; and that the first printed use of the word "baseball" was made in England in 1744. . . .

Everybody knows that the people of the medieval ages were untidy, but recently I ran across a reference to an old method of making glue, from about the 12th century.

The recipe reads: "Use the oldest and driest chicken bones to be found on your kitchen floor. . . ."

Grass Fire Started By Flare From Train

Little Chute — Volunteer firemen extinguished a grass fire along the Chicago and North Western railway tracks crossing at Washington street at 9:45 p. m. Monday. Fire Chief Les Sanders said the fire started from a flare tossed from a train. Village police noticed the blaze and called firemen.

Formal Certificates Will be Awarded to Extension Students

Madison — Formal certificates will be granted in the future by the University of Wisconsin to students who complete two years of study at such extension centers as that at Menasha, the university faculty announced.

The certificates will be of two kinds. The associate in arts certificate will be given, upon request, to students who have earned at least 60 credits and 120 grade points in a program that would normally lead to the bachelor of arts degree.

The associate in science certificate will be granted for 60 credits and 120 grade points of study normally leading to a bachelor of science degree, according to the announcement.

Street Committee Sets Improvements For Huntley School

Several improvements at Huntley school have been ordered by the council's street committee.

They are: Two entrances and drive just off Lindbergh street at Ullman street to provide access to a 24-stall parking lot. An 8-foot-wide sidewalk on Ullman street between Marquette and Lindbergh streets. The board will pay for the extra three feet of width, a letter said. Regular sidewalk on Lindbergh street from Ullman street 400 feet east. Grading and graveling of Lindbergh street between Ullman and Alexander streets.

Three Fined For Racing In Menasha

Menasha — Three young men discovered today there are no prizes offered for winning drag races on Menasha streets.

A fourth will appear to face charges Friday before Police Justice Arthur J. Ales.

Fined $10 and costs each were David E. Heinritz, 18, 620 East South River street, Appleton; Francis Koerner, 19, 830 Chapman avenue, Neenah, and Robert L. Kaphingst, 20, 745 Appleton road.

Koerner and Kaphingst Tuesday were arrested after a race on Seventh street from Appleton street. Koerner, police said, went through the Seventh and DePere streets arterial sign.

Since he had only a temporary driver's permit and no licensed driver in the car with him, Koerner was fined an added $5 and costs for the second offense.

Kaphingst was fined $2 and costs additional for lacking an outside rear view mirror on his car.

The third would-be racer, Heinritz, forfeited $10 and costs. He and another driver were arrested for racing on Third street at 5 p. m. Tuesday.

Pleads Innocent of Drunk Driving

Oshkosh — Robert C. Noffke, 23, of 510 Pierce avenue, Little Chute, entered an innocent plea to a drunken charge when he appeared before Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger this morning. Trial was set for 1:30 p. m. April 27.

Noffke was arrested at 12:40 this morning on Highway 41 in the town of Neenah.

Library Offers Volumes on Peace, Russia

Neenah Displays New Non-Fiction to Stimulate Reading

Neenah — In connection with the observance this week of National Library week, the Neenah Public library has arranged a display of several new non-fiction books which point out that America cannot afford a nation of lazy minds since limited horizons are dangerous to a free society.

Miss May Hart, librarian, cited "the structure and strength of our country rests on the individual who can get an awareness of our present day problems and an understanding of people all over the world from a wide variety of reading."

Several books recently added in special areas, such as on Russia, include "The Privilege Was Mine" by Zinaiva Schakofskoy, "A Room in Moscow" by Sally Belfrage, both of which try to interpret the people rather than politics and "The Big Red School House" by Fred Hechinger which compares the Russian and American systems of education.

Rockover Book

Also of interest are such new books as "Education and Freedom" by Hyman G. Rickover, the navy's famed admiral who is father of the atomic submarine, "Getting Ready for Tomorrow" by Charles Crowe which deals with planning for retirement years and "War and Peace in the Space Age" by James M. Gavin, the army general who resigned as missiles chief and who tells the missiles side of the program.

Chester Bowles, former ambassador and senator, offers an approach to world peace through orderly political growth on all continents in his "Ideas, People and Peace."

"What We Are For" by Arthur Larson and "Your Public Relations" by John Newton Baker also concern the field of foreign relations and are available at the Neenah library.

5 New LP Records Given Library by Economics Club

Menasha — Five new long play 33 1-3-rpm phonograph albums, gifts of the music section of the Economics club, now are available at the Elisha D. Smith public library.

The new records are "Malaguena, Music of Cuba," performed by Percy Faith and his orchestra; "Casals Festival," containing the "Schumann Concerto in A Minor for Cello and Orchestra," performed by Pablo Casals and the Prades Festival orchestra and "Encores," by Eugene Istomin, pianist.

Another album contains two Mozart concertos, "In A Major for Clarinet and Orchestra," and "In C Major for Flute, Harp and Orchestra."

"The Music of Victor Herbert," containing favorites from his operettas, is performed by Richard Crooks and two orchestras, those of Nathaniel Shilkret and that of Al Goodman.

Another LP record offers excerpts from Verdi's "Rigoletto," Acts II and IV, recorded at the Teatro Eliseo opera house in Rome.

Martens Named To Health Post In Menasha Town

Menasha — Ray Martens has been named health officer for the east side of the town of Menasha by the town board. Town Clerk Earl J. Hesselman announced today George Streimyer, a town board member, is continuing as health officer for the west side.

As health officer Martens will be in charge of checking sanitary conditions, issuing school permits to children who have had contagious diseases and handling anything pertaining to health and sanitation.

County Junior 4-H Leader Officers at District Meeting

Oshkosh — County Junior 4-H leader association officers Tuesday attended a district meeting at Green Bay, purpose of which was to exchange ideas on phases of the 4-H program the leaders are working in.

Leaders from 12 counties in northeastern Wisconsin took part and those from Winnebago county attending were Peter Roycraft, John Rilling, Jean Kofler and William Nolte.

Mitchell Mackey, assistant state 4-H club leader, will speak at a county-wide meeting of junior leaders at the courthouse at 8 p.m. Monday.

Neenah Farmer Uses Rotation Pasture Plan

Millard Ihde to Divide Feed Areas
With Electric Fence

Neenah — Millard Ihde, route 2, Neenah, a breeder of registered Ayrshores, is planning to use a rotational pasture program this summer, according to County Agent Vernon W. Peroutky.

He is applying a 10-10-10 fertilizer at 300 pounds per acre and is using an electric fence to limit the pasture area per feeding period to eliminate waste caused by cattle tramping.

Bloat is less in the managed rotational system than in the unmanaged whole field at a time program, the county agent remarked. The health of the herd is undoubtedly best in a pasture program, he added. Fences are expensive, however, and wet weather causes problems.

University Research

The county agent also pointed out that University of Wisconsin agricultural college research shows that the first 3,800 pounds of digestible nutrients fed to a cow is for her maintenance and the second 3,800 pounds will make up to 400 pounds of butterfat, providing the cow has the ability in her genetic make-up to produce efficiently.

Milk testing records are the basis for learning either her own ability or her dam's ability to produce.

There may be some trend to feeding dairy cows stored feeds all year in a feed lot in preference to green feeding in the lot or pasture in the summer season. Research at the Marshfield station thus far indicates no great advantage of one program over the other.

The program to follow with a herd is what fits best for the farmer or a combination of programs.

2 Biographies
Of New Pope
Available

Both Volumes Well
Illustrated With Recent Photographs

Menasha — Seldom has the world press given such prominent notice to Catholic affairs as it did upon the occasion of the recent papal election. Two biographies of the new Pontiff are now available at the Elisha D. Smith public library.

"Above All a Shepherd," by Ugo Groppi and Julius Lombardi, is an intimate and perceptive portrait of Pope John XXIII that tells of each stage of his life and carefully analyzes the experiences and dispositions he has brought to the high and difficult office for which he has been chosen.

"We Have A Pope," by Monsignor Albert Giovannetti, popularly told, covers every phase of a colorful ecclesiastical career. Both books contain an abundance of recent photographs.

Other new non-fiction this week includes a biography of Elizabeth I., by Elizabeth Jenkins, "Elizabeth the Great"; Horace Kephart's "Camping and Woodcraft"; and what really happened to the Roman empire is authoritatively and readably told in "The Myth of Rome's Fall," by Richard Haywood; and "Biology For You," by B. B. Vance.

New Fiction

New fiction available this week includes "Pioneer Go Home," by Richard Powell, a hilarious novel of a family that finally gives up government relief; "Mountolive," by Lawrence Durrell, set in the Middle East, this novel explores motives rather than emotions; Dale Van Every's "The Scarlet Feather" is a novel of the American frontier; and two light romances "A Nurse on Horseback," by Adelaide Humphries and "Jane Ryan, Dietitian," by Elizabeth Wesley.

New mysteries this week are "The Gray Flannel Shroud," by Henry Slesar, "The Green Glove," by Alex Watkins, "No Question of Murder," by Peter Curtis and "The Sleepless Men," by E. H. Nisot.

"Giants From Eternity," by Manly Wade Wellman is a new science fiction addition.

Candidates for Neenah Posts Spend $118

11 Report No Expenses; 7th Ward Race Cost Highest

Neenah—Election expenses of candidates in the municipal election last week totaled $118.29, City Clerk R. V. Hauser reported today. Eleven candidates who were unopposed reported they had no expenses.

The largest expense was in the Seventh ward aldermanic race won by Ralph Westland. Westland listed expenses of $16.72 and a committee in his behalf reported costs of $30.40.

His opponents, Kenneth E. Parman, the incumbent, had expenses of $8.95 and R. Eugene Heimerman reported spending $3.50.

Aaron E. Dix, Fifth ward alderman, spent $22.92 on his reelection while his opponent, Ray Murphy, reported a cost of $13.

Third Ward Race

Third ward aldermanic contest expenses were $6.90 for Ald. Peter Fara, the incumbent, and $8.90 for his opponent, Robert Lenth.

In the Ninth ward, Ald. Paul Hansen, who was re-elected, spent $5 and his opponent, Theodore A. Dupont, spent $8.90.

Those who had no expenses were Police Justice E. P. Arpin, Justice of the Peace Mayhew Mott, Ald. Warren Sanders of the First ward, School Comm. Paul Groth, Ione McConnell and Arthur W. Plummer and Supv. Norbert Redlin, Alvin Staffeld, John Heigl, Reinhold Grunski and Clarence Loehning on the county board.

Menasha Traffic Death-Free Period Cited in Article

Menasha — This city's long traffic death-free period is cited in an article titled "Wisconsin Cities Post Excellent Safety Records," appearing in the "Wisconsin Traffic Safety Reporter," published by the safety division of the Motor Vehicle department.

Menasha is cited thus: "Menasha's long death-free period, according to Police Chief Peter P. Clark, was achieved to the accompaniment of widespread citizen support, constant police supervision and speed watch, strong school safety programs, faithful service by adult school crossing guards and safety patrols and the use of 'zebra' lines painted at crosswalks."

The traffic fatality in Menasha last Thanksgiving day ended a span of 71 years without a traffic death.

Grant Divorce To Neenah Man

Oshkosh — Elroy H. Dommer, 28, route 1, Neenah, was granted a divorce from Viola C. Dommer, 31, of 165 Gardeners row, Appleton, in circuit court on a charge of cruel and inhuman treatment.

Circuit Judge Helmut Arps awarded Mrs. Dommer custody of the two children along with household furniture in lieu of alimony. Dommer was ordered to pay $30 a week support and $65 to the defendant's attorney. The couple practice in the duties of the was married in Oshkosh May city, county and state officers 8, 1954, and separated last October.

7 Named to Badger Boys, Girls States

Winneconne High Students Sponsored By Area Groups

Winneconne — Five junior boys at Winneconne Community High school have been named to attend the Badger Boys State at the Ripon college campus June 13 to 20, following the pattern of previous years.

Boys are chosen who have a good scholastic standing, have participated creditably in extra-curricular activities and have good qualities of character and leadership.

The boys and their sponsoring individuals and organizations include Russell Brown, sponsored by the Winneconne Business Men's association; Grant Nelson by the American Legion, William Freund by the volunteer firemen, James Kiesow by the Larsen cooperative and Douglas Korn by Dr. Donald McDonald.

Girls State

The American Legion auxiliary each year sponsors a junior girl to Badger Girls State held at the University of Wisconsin in Madison. This year two girls will be sent as the sponsor of the second delegate.

This year's representatives are Donna Breaker and Betty Grignon. Purpose of these organizations is to bring to students knowledge of the fundamental principles of our American government through actual practice in the duties of the county and state officers for the period of time spent at the Badger State.

Park Crews End Tree Transfer at City Playground

Menasha — The last of 11 maple trees were moved Tuesday from Sixth street playground to the Seventh street playground, said Harry Kargus, park superintendent.

All of the trees, he said, are about nine years old. They were moved because a new elementary school will be erected on the Sixth street land.

Park crews are putting up playground equipment while cleaning city parks after the winter. Racine street and Sixth street play area equipment was put up Tuesday, and the equipment at Second street was installed Monday.

Menasha parks and boulevard areas are not trash-dumping places, Kargus reminded. His crews have reported some dumping of leaves, lawn rakes and tree limbs in those areas. Anyone caught dumping in public park areas will be liable to arrest, he said.

Three pairs of skates have been claimed by their owners at the park board office, while many others remain unclaimed. If they are not picked up by this weekend, Kargus plans to dispose of them.

Vandalism Reported At County Garage

Oshkosh — Considerable damage was done by vandals at the Winnebago county garage on Knapp street last weekend, Leon Morrissey, county highway commissioner, told Oshkosh police.

He said 10 windows were broken, rolls of snow fence scattered and several barrels of tar tipped over.

School Board Accepts Bid On Fire Door

Engineer Explains Repair of High Spots in Gym Floor

Kaukauna — The board of education Tuesday accepted the low bid of Service Hardware company, Kaukauna, for installation of a fire door in the boiler room of the school.

Three bids were received with the Service bid of $406.75, only $125 below the second low bid. The present door fails to meet state qualifications.

Two office secretaries were granted pay increases of $120 annually after recommendation by the superintendent of schools and principal.

Robert Natrop, city engineer, appeared before the board to explain how high spots in new concrete floors in the all-purpose rooms at both Nicolet and Park school could be repaired.

The high spots are very slight and are patched gradually, said the engineer. The problem can be remedied and will not be noticeable after tile is placed over the concrete, according to the engineer.

The board approved drafting a letter which will be made public explaining to parents of mentally retarded children the procedures which must be followed before a child will be enrolled in the special class made available in the city.

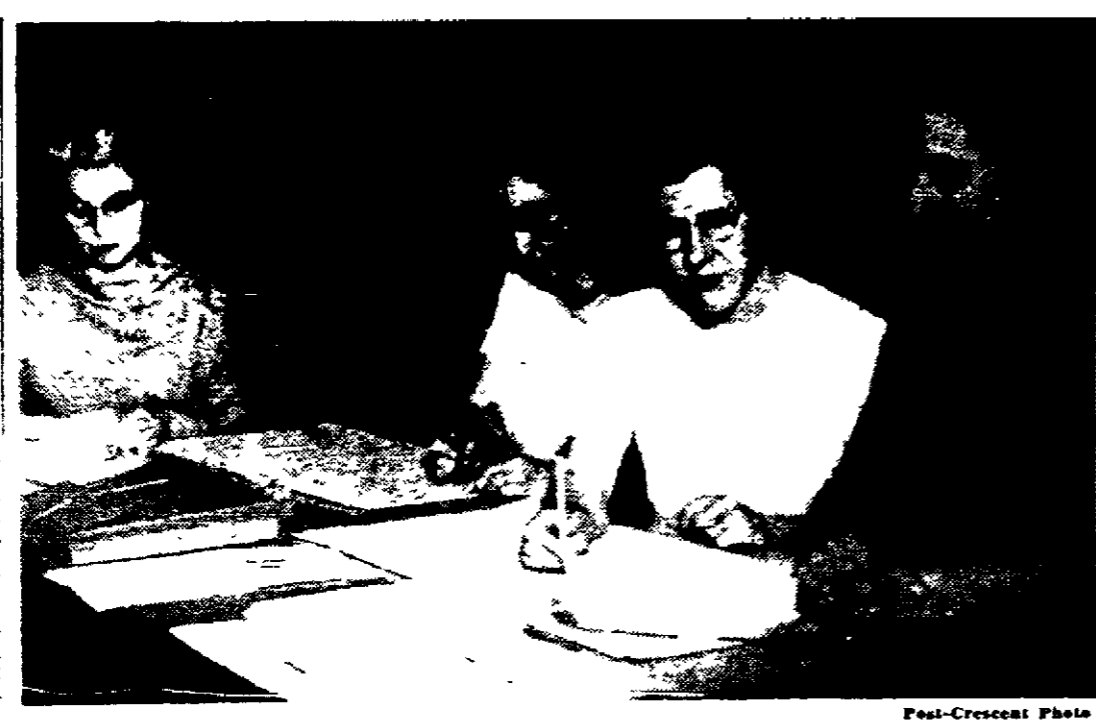

The board also discussed enforcing a regulation requiring a teacher to attend summer school or take refresher college courses periodically, establishing a committee to review requisitions of teachers for various instructional aids and the need for teacher supervision at grade schools during the noon lunch hour. Currently a custodian at one of the schools supervises children during the lunch period.

Insurance Check

Board members were informed by the superintendent, an appraisal of the insurance carried on the two public schools would be undertaken as soon as money for such a project was made available. The insurance will be reviewed due to modernization and remodeling.

Brownie and Girl Scout troops were authorized to use a room at the public schools for meeting places. Miss Janis Sorebeer, Oshkosh, and Miss Peggy A. Johnson were approved as kindergarten instructors for 1959-60 and the superintendent was authorized to offer a contract to Miss Bette Zander, Brillion, as home economics instructor.

The superintendent reported,

Kimberly Priest Talks to Christian Mothers Society

Kimberly — An explanation of following the mass aloud was given at the Christian Mothers society meeting by the Rev. Thomas Mortell, Holy Name parish assistant.

Members of the society will follow this active participation in the mass on the first Sunday in May.

Mrs. Joseph Gossens, spiritual development chairman, told of a vocation flag which has been made and will be displayed at the county deanery meeting at Appleton tonight. There is a special emblem on the flag for each former member of the parish who has joined a religious order.

The society will sponsor a scholarship for the eighth grade girl from Holy Name school winning the religion award. The scholarship will allow her to attend a Catholic high school.

Gifts were presented to past officers Mrs. Ray Schwanke, Mrs. Robert Valeniyne and Mrs. Ted Lemmers.

Mrs. Norbert Schwab, president, appointed Mrs. Cletus Dietzler as historian. Social chairman was Mrs. Donald Van Elzen.

Three Building Permits Issued

Kaukauna — Three building permits were issued Tuesday by Lothar Kemp, building inspector.

Robert Brunner, 1000 Lawe street, was authorized to construct a one and one-half car garage at an estimated cost of $500. Verbeten Bowling alleys, 154 E. Third street, was authorized to make alterations in a window of the bowling alleys at a cost of $200 and Vernon Weith, 919 Crooks avenue, was authorized to make changes in a picture window at his home, estimated cost set at $200.

ed he was still looking for a commercial, English, science-mathematics and second grade teacher.

K of C Approve Building Sale

Sealed Bids to be Accepted by Unit on Business Property

Kaukauna — Members of the Knights of Columbus voted Monday night to advertise for sealed bids on a business building located at 114 W. Wisconsin avenue. All arrangements will be handled by the building committee.

The building currently is occupied by a restaurant and a portion of it is used for storage by a furniture company.

The organization will reserve the right to reject bids if deemed unsatisfactory. Sale of the property could have a bearing on future plans for the construction of a clubhouse.

The group now meets at St. Mary's parish hall. Plans were announced for a corporate communion and breakfast program at St. Mary's church April 26. Fathers and sons are to receive communion at the 7:15 a.m. mass after which breakfast will be served in the school hall.

Victor Haen is program chairman and will be assisted by Larry Verhagen, Neil Bierstecker, Sylvester Geurts and Robert Wolf.

Softball Team Managers Told To Pick Players

Kaukauna — Managers and sponsors of teams planning to participate in the recreation department sponsored City Softball league this summer are reminded by James Gertz, recreation director, to begin organizing teams as the initial meeting is planned April 22.

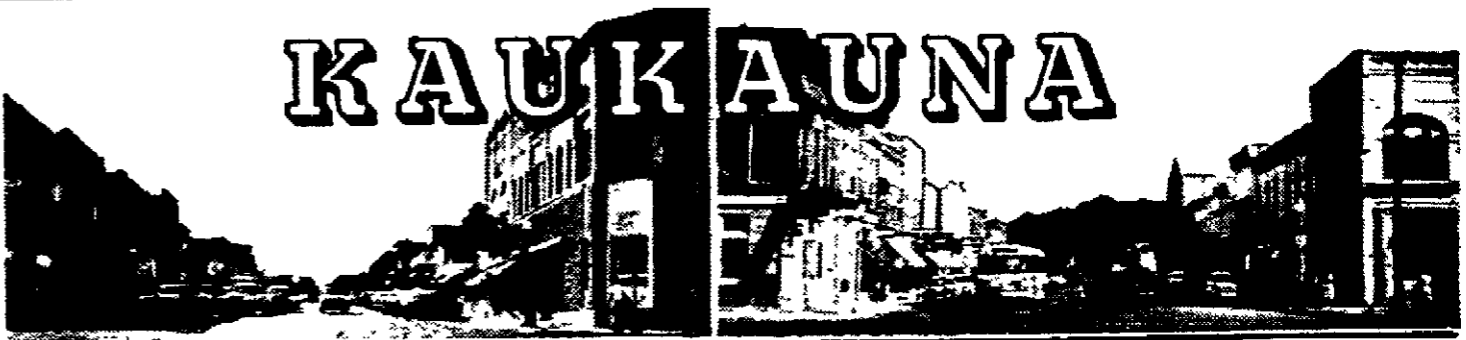

First league games will start May 18 but managers are expected to have sufficient personnel on the roster to make it possible to field a full squad for all contests. This year only residents of Kaukauna or men employed here at least 35 hours a week will be permitted to participate under the direction of George Lehman and the league's committee.

Lee Kluster was chairman of the team, he will not be permitted to play with another team in the loop.

Comfort Station Site Changed At Kimberly

Board, Residents On E. Third Street Agree on Location

Kimberly — Efforts of residents on E. Third street to have the proposed location of the comfort station in Roosevelt park changed have been successful.

President Alvin Fulcer said Tuesday the village board has decided the building will be on the southeast corner of the park. It will be approximately 50 to 60 feet east from its originally proposed location.

Close to Homes

When bids were sought on the comfort station residents opposed the location because they felt it was too close to many homes on Third street. Residents told of troubles they experienced when a water fountain was installed on the southwest corner of the park. They contended that a comfort station nearby would only make matters worse.

St. Aubin Construction of Little Chute has the general contract for the building. Plumbing work will be done by Van Vreede Plumbing of Kimberly.

Contracts for the building put the cost at about $4,200. The village will install the lead-in to the water and sewer mains on the street. When all work is completed it is expected that the station will cost the village about $5,000, Fulcer said.

City Advertises for Bids on Police Car

Kaukauna — The purchasing committee of the common council will advertise for sealed bids on a new police car. bids to be received by the city clerk prior to 5 p.m. April 30.

Mel DeBruin in High 589 Series At Little Chute

Little Chute — Mel DeBruin hit a 589 series for the individual honors in the Fish Couples league at the Recreation alleys.

The Minnows are leading the loop with a 26-16 record but the Black Bass are close behind, trailing by one game. The Sharks are third just a half game out of second.

Marvin DeBruin jolted a 560 set for the only other honor count.

Joe Wachuta notched a 550 series for the only honor count in the Big Leagues Mixed loop at the Recreation.

The Braves won two games from the Giants to solidify their hold on first place. The leaders have a 33-9 record and the Dodgers are second, six games off the pace.

Christian PTA Names Officers

Kaukauna — Election of officers highlighted a meeting of the Christian Parent-Teachers association of Trinity Lutheran school Monday with Norbert Rhinerson named president.

Other officers named include Mrs. Thomas Bauer, vice president; Mrs. James Ring, secretary, and Mrs. William Roerig, treasurer.

Plans were made for installation at a 6 p.m. covered dish supper May 11 in the church basement. Eighth grade graduates and their parents will be entertained. Mothers of seventh grade students will have charge of the kitchen and dining room with Mrs. Lester Lopas as general chairman.

James Kienitz, assistant personnel director at the Combined Locks Paper company and certified Red Cross instructor, spoke on first aid. He was introduced by Fred Mueller, principal.

Grass Fire

Combined Locks — Volunteer firemen answered a call for a grass fire near the village dumping grounds at 3:15 p.m. Tuesday.

Second Round Starts In Insurance Battle

Medical Society Demands That State Control Rival Hospital Coverage Units

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The Wisconsin State Medical society started the second round in its battle with the rival Blue Cross pre-paid hospital insurance program when it demanded that the state act to regulate and supervise Blue Cross and the society's competing Blue Shield insurance subsidiary.

The council of the society endorsed the regulatory proposal of the state insurance department, which in turn followed a bitter battle here before an assembly committee on a Blue Cross-sponsored bill to declare illegal the Blue Shield's hospital insurance rider.

It seemed probable that the legislature will accept the proposal to put both under state regulatory control, as a compromise.

Blue Cross and the doctors organization once collaborated in the sale of pre-paid hospital care, but broke apart about a year ago. Since that time the society has been selling a hospital insurance rider to its regular Blue Shield pre-paid medical and surgical care plan and Blue Cross has alleged that it is improperly cutting rates.

Dr. J. C. Fox of LaCrosse, society council president, declared unequivocally that Blue

Lawrence Says:
Senate Has
Right to Query
Justice Stewart
Ample Precedent
For Examining
Appointee's Views

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
 Washington—Several members of the senate are a little disturbed over the attempt to gag them when they were questioning Justice Potter Stewart of the supreme court.
 Stewart was given a recess appointment in 1958 as an associate justice of the supreme court on Oct. 14, 1958. He has not been confirmed by the senate, but he has participated in many decisions and has written nine opinions.
 Some justices in the past have declined to take the oath of office until confirmed. The embarrassments that come to a justice who is already sitting on the court but who has to appear before a congressional committee to give information, presumably on his own qualifications, are obvious.
Disagreement Arises
 In the hearing of the senate judiciary committee the other day, lasting two hours, a point of order was made that no question should be asked of Justice Stewart concerning supreme court decisions or his own attitude toward past decisions. But, in the discussion that followed, it was apparent that the point of order was not concurred in by other members of the committee from both the north and the south.
 While the constitution provides that the senate may confirm or reject any presidential nomination submitted to it, sometimes, when congress is not in session, recess appointments are made. The recipient of such an appointment can serve only through the subsequent session of congress. If he is not confirmed during that session, he is no longer eligible to remain in his post.
 Justice Stewart was, of course, not on the supreme court when the segregation decisions of 1954 were issued. He has since had opportunities to concur in various rulings derived from the original case. On the surface, it would seem to be an imp propriety to ask any supreme court justice to discuss his reasoning with respect to decisions that he has already rendered on the high court, even though serving under a recess appointment.
Ask Logic of Cases
 But the senators on the judiciary committee did not ask about current decisions. They were interested in the reasoning of the supreme court in decisions prior to the time of Stewart's appointment. They wanted to know whether the new justice agrees with the reasoning, and Sen. McClellan of Arkansas, Democrat, asked him to explain what he thinks was the reasoning and logic applied in the school segregation cases.
 Justice Stewart said that basically he agrees with the 1954 decision but not with all the grammar and the footnotes. Yet it was one of those footnotes citing psychological authority—including Gunnar Myrdal, a Swedish socialist—that has occasioned widespread criticism. Certainly in the argument before the supreme court itself, there was no opportunity to offer a rebuttal to the Myrdal view because the footnote had at the time not been mentioned by the court.
 It might well be asked of what value it is to determine whether an appointee to the court agrees or disagrees with past decisions. On this point, Stewart said, "I've never read any opinion of any court that I thought was perfect."
Lists Senate's Duty
 But the real duty of the senate, every time a judicial appointment is submitted, is to find out whether the prospective justice actually believes in a written constitution and the method prescribed for its amendment, or whether he believes that the supreme court can override the constitution at will.
 At one point, when the senate judiciary committee was interrogating Justice Stewart, he was asked: "Do you think the supreme court has the power to amend the constitution?" He answered: "Certainly not to amend it, no."
 The questioning of Justice Stewart is to be resumed in a few days. This is not the first time the views of a judicial appointee have come under close scrutiny by members of the senate judiciary committee. Back in 1930, when Charles Evans Hughes was nominated to be chief justice of the supreme court, he was sharply criticized for his views in various cases. Indeed, much of the opposition to his confirmation came from the radicals of those days, and on the final vote plainly because of his previous decisions. In the case of John J. Parker, a member of the U. S. circuit court of appeals who was nominated by President Hoover, labor-union opposition was such that more than 2 million days his nomination was rejected more in 1958 than in the previous year. This increase in opposition was cited in the annual report 10,068,504 hospital admissions. The judiciary committee released by the Blue Cross Patients were in the hospital examine the views of any ap- commission of the American a total of 57,530,459 days. Blue Cross paid hospitals $1,346, and, indeed, to vote against him of they are so inclined. The report noted that nearly $40 million had to be taken from reserves of individual than was paid in 1957.

Blue Cross Plans to Pay for 57½ Million Days of Care
 Miami, Fla. — Blue Cross is the national coordinating agency for Blue Cross plans, with headquarters in Chicago. For the 55,880,414 persons enrolled in the Blue Cross program to prepay the cost of hospital illness, there were 10,068,504 hospital admissions. The Blue Cross Patients were in the hospital a total of 57,530,459 days. Blue Cross paid hospitals $1,346, and, indeed, to vote against him of they are so inclined. The report noted that nearly $40 million had to be taken from reserves of individual than was paid in 1957.

Stockholders to Grill Employees This Week

BY SYLVIA PORTER

"Every time I smoke one of your cigarettes, it makes me belch. Why?"

"Sir, just what do you do that's worth $150,000 a year to us?"

In the next few weeks, the presidents of hundreds of American corporations, including world-famous giants, will be asked questions as embarrassing as these in open meetings attended by thousands of intently listening investors and covered by the press. And they'll have to come up with coherent answers, or risk equally embarrassing headlines the next day in financial pages the nation over.

For the traditional "corporation annual meeting" season is now under way. Today the season reaches a spectacular peak with the yearly meeting of American Telephone and Telegraph company in the huge Kingsbridge armory in the Bronx, N.Y.

A T & T Biggest Telephone received notices from 25,000 of its stockholders that they plan to attend. It has prepared seats for 13,000 against a previous top of 2,500. This undoubtedly will smash all records ever for a stockholders' meeting. For Telephone's owners are coming to celebrate formal ratification of AT&T's decision to split the stock give stockholders three shares for each old share owned and raise the annual cash dividend from $9 on each old share to the equivalent of $9.90.

Also today, 36 other corporations are holding annual meetings. April 21, there will be 35 sessions; April 22, another 28; the next day, an additional 27. And on April 28 alone, 60 companies with shares listed on the New York Stock exchange will hold their annual affairs.

As recently as a decade ago, a minor total of stockholders thought of attending Saturday in Madison, if the

the annual meetings of their corporations, and most company managements went out of their way to discourage attendance by holding the meetings in remote, uncomfortable places, by giving them a minimum of publicity, by making them dull, routine.

Now, though, the trend is entirely in the opposite direction. Tens of thousands of little investors will be at the meetings in these weeks. In many cases they'll be entertained with product exhibits, plant tours and movies.

In some cases they'll simply applaud and go home, but in most they'll be asking questions such as I quoted above. Lots of developments explain the zooming attendance at these meetings. One, of the form of a gradual flaring course, is the spread in stock ownership to an unprecedented total of many millions of middle-class citizens. Another is the fact that in recent years leading stock exchanges have been promoting the idea that a stockholder is an owner of the corporation and he should take an active interest in his company's activities. A third is that corporations themselves have been going in for lavish meetings on the basis that attracting a large attendance is good public relations.

One day a year, the holder of even one share in a corporation has the right to assert himself in person as an owner. One day a year, the head of even the biggest company must respond. And, when in these weeks the questions will be truly embarrassing, the odds will be the corporation managements invited them by their own actions last year. ## Woman Loses Campaign to Save Tree

Widening of Street Means Corner Must Conform, She's Told

Mrs. L. P. Williams, 845 E. College avenue, has lost her campaign to keep a tree now in the way of the College avenue bridge project.

City street committeemen explained all corners at College avenue and Rankin street must be widened because the College avenue pavement will be widened.

Not to widen the corners, it was explained, would leave a right angle turning movement at the corners.

(Widening is scheduled from a point about mid-block between Meade and Rankin street to the bridge. Between the mid-block point and Rankin street, widening will be in the form of a gradual flaring course, is the spread in stock ownership to an unprecedented total of many millions of middle-class citizens. Another is the fact that in recent years leading stock exchanges have been promoting the idea that a stockholder is an owner of the corporation and he should take an active interest in his company's activities. A third is that corporations themselves have been going in for lavish meetings on the basis that attracting a large attendance is good public relations.

To Plant New Tree Mrs. Williams said she intends to plant a new tree in the boulevard as soon as the project is complete.

She protested lack of public relations on the part of the city. Someone should have told residents what was going to happen, she said.

Trees, she maintained, are important. She cited large expenditures in Chicago and New York to put trees back in business districts.

The tree, committeemen pointed out, is one of four that will be cut along College avenue.

Mrs. Williams said she was glad the street wouldn't be made to look like Richmond street. A widening project there last summer took almost all the trees.

city council approves tonight. They are Mayor Mitchell, James R. Whitman, Jr., and Mrs. LeRoy Stohman, city representatives on the regional planning commission, and City Clerk Broehm. They would attend at city expense.

More U. S. Plants Abroad New Sales Records Set by Firm's Operations Overseas

BY SAM DAWSON

New York—A man in a hurry on the transatlantic jet may be from Ohio and not headed for the Folies Bergere. He may be on his way to see how well his European plant is turning out cash registers with Arabic figures for sale in the Mideast.

While he's there he'll try his best to act like and think like his native employers and customers. It pays.

More and more American firms are building plant abroad or talking about it. Here are some rules of thumb on how to succeed as given by one old hand.

Stanley C. Allyn, chairman of National Cash Register, says that 40 per cent of his firm's sales are overseas — and 65 per cent of these sales were of machines built abroad. Overseas operations have set new sales records in each of the past 13 years.

He employs 22,000 people abroad, and only six are Americans. But Dayton, Ohio, executives are constantly traveling to the overseas plants, and sales offices, visiting 30 countries last year.

If you want to make money overseas how do you get along with your neighbors? In the following, second of three on American plants abroad, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, tells how together they work there for U. S. industry.

And the overseas personnel frequently come to Dayton headquarters. Personal contact is the key to success, says Allyn.

Must Stay Abroad

The first rule, however, he says, is to go into a country to stay regardless of wars, revolutions or depressions.

Another is to plow back the profits you make abroad. His firm has paid for the plants it built since the war largely out of profits of overseas operations.

For Americans planning to manufacture overseas—whether it's to take advantage of usually lower operating costs or to slide under the barriers of currency restrictions or import quotas — Allyn has other pointers.

One is to treat foreign employees as you do those at home. This goes for working conditions, recreation facilities and benefit programs. Wage scales, like the price of raw materials, are governed by local conditions.

Another is to study the local market conditions and when necessary adapt your product to meet it. Allyn notes that in some cases ideas and product changes originating abroad have been put into use here.

One of the best ways to hold foreign markets is to put service ahead of sales, he believes. That often gives American products the competitive edge they need.

But if your firm wants to prosper, or even stay alive, in its overseas location and market, there is one prime thing to remember.

Always respect the customs, traditions, religions and sensitivities of foreign peoples. What nearly everyone does in Ohio might infuriate the people in Calcutta or Lisbon.

Remembering that, Allyn says, is one reason his firm has built the total of its sales from overseas plants to $33 million a year and its export sales to $19 million.

Man Sentenced To Life for Wife Slaying

Butler, Ala. — A wealthy timberman was sentenced to life imprisonment Monday night for the rifle slaying of his wife.

Attorneys for 36-year-old John L. McPherson filed notice of appeal of the first degree murder conviction.

The state had asked for the death penalty.

The defendant had pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity.

McPherson was charged with shooting down his wife of

Board Adds Instrumental Instructor

Will Begin String Program in Fifth Grade in September

Hiring an additional instrumental music instructor has been approved by the Appleton school board.

The extra teacher will enable the string instrument program to be started in fifth grade instead of sixth, according to J. P. Mann, superintendent of schools.

Mann said he had devised a new plan of hiring teachers for the 1959-1960 academic year that will reduce the number of new teachers required from 14 to 11. The plan would place one new teacher at Wilson and Roosevelt Junior High schools and two new teachers at Madison Junior High school.

Mann Holds Interviews

Mann said he would travel to Madison this week to interview candidates. He told the board all of the elementary school French department had resigned for personal reasons, and that the entire speech correction staff would leave the school system in June.

The transfer of several teachers within the school system was approved.

A new multi-textbook curriculum was approved for elementary department levels. Four books will be used in each room. The books will be distributed according to level of intelligence and reading ability—the more difficult texts going to the brighter students. The books will be rented to students and replaced after they have been used about five years.

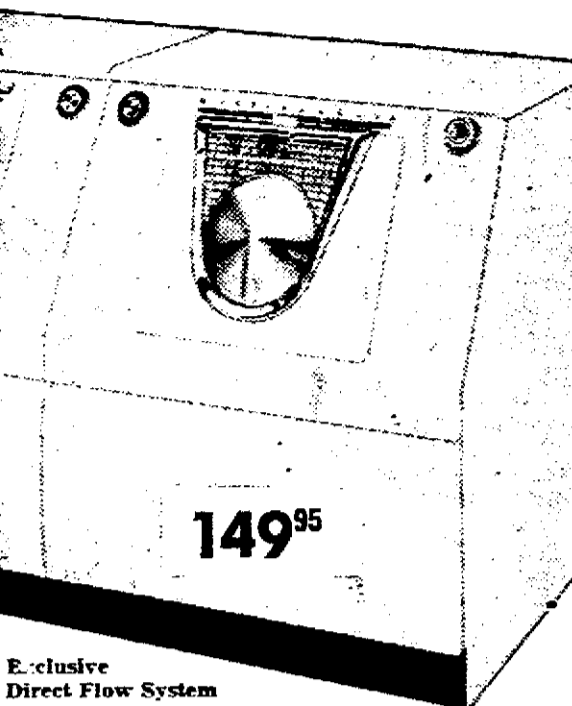

14 years in woods near Silas, Jan. 29. Her body was recovered from an abandoned well to which, officers said, McPherson led them.

McPherson testified he and his 35-year-old wife had argued bitterly over terms of a divorce both were considering. He said his wife was shot accidentally when he fought with her for possession of a 30-30 rifle.
